Thousands Converge On Community

Nature Adds 'Fireworks' To Midland's Gala '4th'

Nature added her own fireworks to the climax of Midland's annual Fourth of July program Monday night as a thunderstorm swept the area just as the brilliant and loud aerial bombardment took place.

Thousands from the Tri-State District visited the community for the traditional holiday festivities, which included a parade, concerts, fair, free entertainment, drill team competition and the evening's pyrotechnics.

AN ESTIMATED 17,000 to 20,000 viewed the 1½-hour parade in the morning, 6,000 witnessed in the morning, 6,000 witnessed the drill team competition at the football stadium in the evening, while many thousands watched the fireworks from cars, fields, streets and front porches.

The fireworks display was advanced 10 minutes because of the approaching storm, but many in the crowd were drenched by the heavy rains before they could reach their cars.

The parade was held under a blazing hot sun in the morning and early afternoon, but by late afternoon, clouds and cooler breezes had moved into the district.

Governors Eye Rights, Viet Issues

Annual Conference In Los Angeles To Sift Amendments

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's governors come to grips today with the question of restoring machinery to deal with the explosive issues of the Viet Nam war and civil rights.

In the first formal session of their 58th annual conference, the governors take up proposed amendments which would revive the resolutions-making process they jinked in 1963 in a bitter fight over a Republican attempt to expose Democratic divisions over racial equality proposals.

Now the politically disturbing Viet Nam conflict hangs like a cloud over a conference where the everyday issues of federal-state relations, highway safety and mental health have been all but blotted out in preliminary discussions.

There is no doubt that if the Democrats push for it, they can get an endorsement from the conference for President Johnson's Viet Nam policies. They (Turn to GOVERNORS, Page 2)

Three Seized After Fleeing Beaver Jail

Three prisoners who escaped Monday night from the Beaver County Jail all were back behind bars today following the capture of the third man this morning at 8:35.

The apprehension of Louis Freed, 21, of Beaver Falls R.D. 2 ended a night-long search by area law enforcement agencies. The other two escapees were Sam Robinson, 18, of Beaver Falls, who was captured a short time after the break, and Jack Waggoner, 24, of Ambridge, who was taken into custody after a scuffle shortly after midnight on the Rochester-Monaca Bridge at Rochester.

The trio hid behind a crate Monday when inmates were called to devotional services after a recreational period. They then scaled a wall and fled on foot.

Police said Robinson surrendered at the Monaca end of the Rochester - Monaca Bridge shortly after the escape was discovered.

A widespread search started immediately for the others.

At 1:35 a. m. today Freed and Waggoner were seen walking across the bridge. Beaver County Sheriff John M. Hineman Jr. and Chief Detective John Krzyton attempted to apprehend the two. Hineman scuffled with Waggoner and as he was being apprehended Freed fled on across the bridge.

He climbed off the end of the bridge, crossed Route 65 and climbed a nearby hill, he told authorities after his capture. Freed said he then worked his way back into Rochester and New Brighton, traveling on to Beaver Falls.

He was caught at the apartment home of a friend in Morado Dwellings. Police said the apartment had been under surveillance. There was no one home at the time. He had been in the apartment only a few minutes when police closed in. They found Freed in bed. He offered no resistance.

Rusk Target Of 5,000 Jap Leftists

'U. S. Get Out Of Viet,' World-Wide Rallying Cry

LONDON (AP) — "Americans get out of Viet Nam" was the familiar rallying cry as chanting crowds, many of them Communist-organized, staged Fourth of July protest demonstrations around the world.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk was the target of about 5,000 screaming Japanese leftists as he arrived in Japan for an economic conference. Police slipped him out of Osaka Airport by a back road.

In Paris, about 25 Americans began a march on the U.S. Embassy to deliver a protest petition, and French Communists moved in and swept the group into a fist-swinging clash with police. The crowd of 700 applauded when an American girl held aloft a burning American flag "as a symbol for what's happening in Viet Nam—for the Americans to get out."

British police stopped an attempt to burn the American flag at the U.S. Embassy in London where U.S. Ambassador David Bruce was holding an Independence Day reception. Two supporters of the British pacifist "Committee of 100" crashed the party but were hustled out when one of them proposed a toast "to the dead and dying in Hanoi and Haiphong and the American withdrawal from Viet Nam."

In Philadelphia, cradle of American independence, about 400 demonstrators marched with placards protesting the Viet Nam war. Across the street, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball told a crowd of 2,000 standing outside Independence Hall that the United States was fighting so that South Vietnamese "may enjoy the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Barry Goldwater told 39 college students outside his home in Phoenix, Ariz., that "we're sick and tired of seeing our men killed" in Viet Nam. But before American troops are withdrawn, the Communists must be made to realize "we mean business," the 1964 Republican presidential candidate declared. Elsewhere:

Hamburg—Police used rubber clubs and hoses to repel about 500 demonstrators who tried to storm the U.S. Consulate.

Munich—Police dispersed a mob which after a protest rally threw rotten eggs and stones at the U.S. Consulate.

Bonn—Rain doused a pacifist group's attempt to picket the U.S. Embassy where many high German officials attended the Independence Day reception.

Oslo—Some 500 Norwegian leftists demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy, but Ambassador Margaret Joy Tibbets was away celebrating the day in the whaling port of Sandefjord.

Aalborg, Denmark —Premier Jens Otto Krag was cheered by leftists at the annual Danish

Navy Plane Shot Down; Pilot's Safe

Raids Made Near Port Of Haiphong; Oil Depot Also Hit

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers attacked two North Vietnamese torpedo boats off Haiphong early today as the air war against the Communist North continued without letup.

One of the two A4 Skyhawks that caught the torpedo boats 38 miles southeast of the main North Vietnamese port was shot down, but the pilot was plucked from the Gulf of Tonkin by a rescue helicopter. A U.S. spokesman said he did not know if the torpedo boats were hit.

Navy and Air Force planes flew a record 91 multiplane missions against North Viet Nam Monday. The Fourth of July targets included an oil storage area 19 miles southeast of Haiphong.

An estimated 250 to 300 planes made the raids, a number which a qualified officer said was above the average for the 16-month-old air war against the North. It was not a record number for a single day's raid, however.

The Navy planes also hit an oil storage area 25 miles west of Thanh Hoa, down the coast, as the intensified assault on North Viet Nam's fuel supplies continued.

U.S. military headquarters reported relatively little ground action in South Viet Nam, but it appeared that the Communists may have targeted isolated Special Forces camps for the victory that has so far been denied them in the 1966 monsoon season. Viet Cong raiders made four attacks on the lonely outposts in the past three days.

The heaviest action reported Monday involved U.S. Marines near the northern city of Da Nang. With the help of air strikes and artillery barrages they reported killing 154 Viet Cong in various fights.

The attack on the torpedo boats came in the same general area where Navy planes sank three similar North Vietnamese vessels Friday as they were headed for the 7th Fleet frigate Contz. Nineteen North Vietnamese sailors were captured.

The two Skyhawks took off from the carrier Constellation at 2:30 a. m. today after the torpedo boats had been picked up by radar in a cluster of islands.

The planes dropped flares, a U.S. spokesman said, and were fired on. The Skyhawks attacked the boats with rockets but soon afterward one of the Skyhawks went down. Navy and Air Force search planes also reported anti-aircraft fire from the shore.

The downed pilot was rescued about 7:30 a. m. by a Navy helicopter. (Turn to VIET NAM, Page 7)

Home Damaged Here By Bolt Of Lightning

Lightning damaged an East End home during the storm that struck the city Monday night.

The lightning hit a television antenna at the home of William L. Mautz of 1833 Michigan Ave. at 11:11 p. m. The paint on the side of the house was blistered and scorched, according to city firemen.

Firemen were called Monday at 7:04 p. m. to the home of Charles Brooks of St. Clair Ave. and Ray St. when a grass fire burned near the front porch. A booster line was used to extinguish the blaze. No damage resulted.

Toll Soars To 567

Highway Deaths Hit New Record

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents across the nation during the three-day Independence Day observance killed at least 567 persons, a record death toll for any Fourth of July holiday.

With reports of traffic deaths that occurred up to midnight Monday night still trickling in, the three-day toll surpassed even the record four-day toll for the holiday set in 1963.

In addition to traffic fatalities there were 215 drownings, nearly double last year's 114 during a similar 78-hour weekend period. Boating accidents accounted for another 52 deaths. That made a total of 834 accidental deaths reported over the holiday.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 510 and 610 persons would die in traffic accidents this holiday period.

But there was an optimistic word from Howard Pyle, council president, even as the death toll mounted.

Said Pyle: "After years of inadequate official attention to the traffic problem, Congress is in the process of enacting major legislation that will provide funds for a number of vital safety activities.

"In all our 50-odd years of accident prevention work, we at the council have never been more confident than we are today that the years ahead will see increasingly greater safety on our roads."

The worst single accident of the period took 10 lives Sunday 30 miles west of Tucson, Ariz. Two cars collided head on and all of the occupants, Arizona Indians, were killed.

Several other multiple-death crashes swelled the count.

In Arkansas two separate accidents within five hours Sunday killed 11 persons. The first accident, a three-car crash near Blytheville, killed six. A head-on crash five hours later near Benton killed five more.

Earlier, the Safety Council had warned that "if traffic deaths continue at their present rate, (the death toll) will exceed not only last year's Fourth of July, but possibly the Labor Day weekend of 1965."

The 1965 Labor Day weekend was the worst summer holiday for traffic fatalities with 575 killed.

Adm. Sharp Gives Views

U.S. Forces In Viet Seen 'Sufficient' To Rout Reds

HONOLULU (AP) — The commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific says after a visit to Saigon that there are sufficient fighting men in South Viet Nam to rout the Communists.

But Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp said in an airport interview Monday night that this does not necessarily mean there will be no further increase in the United States' manpower commitment in the Southeast Asia country.

"I can't say that necessarily. It depends on what the other side does," Sharp remarked. "You can't, in a war, ever say 'we've got enough now' because you don't know what the enemy is going to do."

The admiral, agreeing with Gen. William C. Westmoreland that the war against the Communists is "now being won," gave this assessment of the situation after meeting with the Army general who commands U.S. troops in Viet Nam.

"We have got enough troops in the country that we can take the offensive. Anytime we can find the Viet Cong or the North Vietnamese, we can put enough pressure on to beat them. In other words, we have the necessary forces to take the offensive and stay on the offensive, which is the important thing."

"We have enough air power in there now to do the job of supporting the ground troops. There is a fine team in there, and they're doing a hell of a good job."

Sharp, whose headquarters are in Honolulu, visited Saigon after attending a meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in Canberra, Australia.

Japan Keeps Contact With Red Chinese

Helping Peking To Break Isolation. Official Tells U.S.

KYOTO, Japan (AP) — Japan told the United States today it will continue its contacts with Communist China to help Peking break out of self-imposed isolation.

Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shina expressed the Japanese government's view as he and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the fifth annual meeting of Japanese and American Cabinet officers.

The three-day conference convened with leftist demonstrators marching in the streets of ancient Kyoto to protest U.S. policy in Viet Nam. A heavy police guard kept the 2,000 marchers a third of a mile from the conference hall.

Shina told Rusk and four other U.S. Cabinet members attending the closed meeting that the Chinese Communists seemed pragmatic in their actions toward Japan despite verbal attacks on its government. Rusk indicated a much harsher assessment of Peking.

The Japanese foreign minister said it was unclear whether the purge in Communist China meant a power struggle or an ideological change. "At any rate there is tension" on the mainland, he said.

Rusk said in the past 18 months Communist China had suffered "severe reverses" and "growing isolation" from the rest of the world but was "continuing its hostility and intransigence toward the United States and the rest of the world."

Rusk reassured the Japanese that "the United States is seeking every possible avenue to find peace" in Viet Nam. Shina expressed the hope for a prompt peaceful settlement. Neither mentioned the recent U.S. bombings in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, officials told the newsmen.

Opening the conference earlier today, Shina and Rusk both referred to differences between their governments on some questions but minimized the effect.

"This diversity," said Rusk, "adds to the strength and durability of our partnership—provided that we never forget that we have some vital common

Bolivia Elects Barrientos As President

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — A U.S. Air Force product who waged Bolivia's first political campaign by helicopter is scheduled to become his country's president Aug. 6.

Air Force Gen. Rene Barrientos, 47, won an overwhelming victory in Sunday's presidential election. The latest revised tabulation gave his Bolivian Revolutionary Front — the FRB — 191,000 votes to 115,000 for the combined opposition.

Barrientos' vice-presidential running mate, Luis Adolfo Siles, and most FRB candidates for the 129-member Congress also were elected, but the right-of-center Christian Democratic Community got enough votes to win the seat which the constitution guarantees to the minority.

Born in the small town of Tarija in central Bolivia, Barrientos was an Air Force student at Randolph Field, Tex., and was graduated in 1953. He joined President Victor Paz Estenssoro's Nationalist Revolutionary Movement — MNR — and in a few years soared from captain to general and command of the air force.

In 1963 he launched a vigorous campaign for the MNR's vice-presidential nomination after Paz Estenssoro changed the constitution to allow his own reelection to the presidency. Despite Paz Estenssoro's opposition, the MNR convention in January 1964 named the general to the second place on the ticket.

A month later Barrientos was wounded in an attempt on his life and was hospitalized in the Panama Canal Zone. After his recovery, he was elected with Paz Estenssoro in May. Then in November he and the commander of the armed forces, Gen. Alfredo Ovando, overthrew Paz Estenssoro and set up a junta with themselves as copresidents.

Barrientos is an extrovert prone to long speeches to the people, often in Quechua, the language of the peasants in the valleys. Eight attempts on his life have been recorded, but his political enemies claim some of them were rigged.

Political circles predicted the military would give Barrientos six months to two years to make good on his promises of economic and social development.

Heaviest U.S. Satellite Put Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's heaviest satellite — a 29-ton rocket stage like that which one day will propel astronauts to the moon — vaulted into orbit today. It was filled with 10 tons of liquid hydrogen in an engineering test to determine if this high-energy fuel has at last been harnessed for space use.

The 17-story-tall Saturn 1 rocket, most powerful ever fired by the United States, thundered off its launching pad at 10:53 a.m. (EDT) on the 16-million pounds of thrust and trailed a plume of fire more than 500 feet long as it darted into the sky.

Eight minutes later, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the 92-foot second stage had ignited with a 200,000-pound thrust burst and drilled itself into an orbit about 118 miles above the earth.

The launching was held up nearly two hours because of the failure of one of two television cameras located in the fuel tank to monitor behavior of liquid hydrogen fuel. Flight controllers finally decided to launch with only one of the cameras operating.

A tracking station at Bermuda reported receiving clear pictures from the camera as the huge stage passed overhead several minutes after liftoff.

The controller at Bermuda reported the photos showed that the hydrogen was "very stable" and was "behaving itself very well" with only an occasional ripple on the surface.

The report said gases evaporating from the hydrogen were being expelled properly to provide a small amount of thrust to help settle the volatile fuel.

Officials said several hours would be required to determine how successful the mission was. They termed the early portion highly successful.

Success would clear the way for the launching of an unmanned Apollo moon ship in August and the flight of a three-man Apollo crew on an earth orbit mission in November. Both would be boosted by Saturn 1 rockets.

Local Man Pays $18 In Restaurant Incident

A man identified as Dick Green of May St. was ordered today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff to pay a total of $18.25 on a charge he obtained a 75-cent dinner Friday in the New York Restaurant "by false pretenses and with intent to defraud."

Green pleaded "no contest" to the charge, which was filed by Ruth Chafins, a waitress. The judge fined him $10 and $7.50 costs and also ordered him to pay the restaurant check.

Green told the court his companions had made prior arrangements to pay for the meal, but apparently did not.

Governors

got one in last year's meeting with only two dissents — those of Republican Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon.

But a check by The Associated Press of a score of governors uncovered doubts and reservations, even among the President's supporters, about the latest bombings in North Viet Nam. Gov. Phillip H. Hoff, Vermont Democrat, for example, said that while he generally supports the President, "I have grave reservations on the recent bombings."

Gov. Daniel J. Evans, Washington Republican, said that the President may be on the right track in stepping up the bombings, "but it seems to me that over the past year and a half we have attempted something similar in nature but it never seems to end the war."

Hatfield continued his pace as one of the harsher critics of Johnson's policies.

Romney, a potential contender for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, announced he would not support any "blank check" endorsement of Johnson's course. He said Viet Nam ought not to be an issue in the conference, since the governors had no opportunity to influence the policies involved.

Southern governors served notice there will be a fight over any proposal for a conference endorsement of the administration's civil rights bill pending in Congress, particularly the open-housing section.

Gov. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi predicted in an interview a "pretty good scrap" against it.

"I'm opposed to the bill," he said. "I don't see that a great deal would be gained by it. The legislation puts a great deal of emphasis on indolence and laziness."

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama said that "property ownership," as affected by the bill's ban against racial discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, will be an issue in the 1968 presidential campaign in which he may run on a third party ticket.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey said he didn't come to the conference to participate in a brawl over civil rights. The New Jersey governor said controversies over this issue have nearly wrecked past conferences.

He said each governor has to deal with the issue individually in his state and there is nothing to be gained by adopting a resolution. He added that his state's legislature had passed an open-housing bill "and I haven't had 10 letters against it."

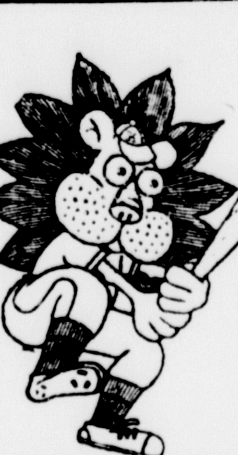

But Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, chairman of the Republican Governors' Association, said he would hate to think that the conference was avoiding taking a stand on civil rights. He endorsed the Johnson administration's bill as sound legislation.

Tito Following Up Purge Of No. 2 Red

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito was reported today following up his purge of Yugoslavia's No. 2 Communist with wide-ranging dismissals in the courts, military, government and party.

Some Yugoslavs speculated that the next top official to fall might be Vojin Lukic, a member of the Communist party central committee and interior minister from 1963 to 1965.

The key factor in the dismissals appeared to be Tito's desire to end opposition to his liberal economic program.

Pennsylvania Teacher, 39, Losing Weight During Swim

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Last winter, Russell Chaffee stepped on a scale and frowned when the needle came to rest at 232 pounds.

"Way too heavy," said Chaffee, who stands only 5-foot-8. Dieting is very difficult for Chaffee, who admits, "I eat everything. That's my trouble." So he decided to take an easier way out — swimming the Susquehanna River, all 440 miles of it.

"Swimming consumes about 600 calories an hour," he said in an interview here after having gone about two-thirds of the way. "You can eat all you want if you swim long enough."

Chaffee, 39, a high school mathematics teacher from Sayre, Pa., has been swimming long distances for about 10 years.

Another reason for deciding to swim the river, he says, is to advertise its recreational values.

He began his swim June 14 at the river's headwaters near

Deaf Man Perfects Midget Transistor Hearing Aid

If you can hear people talk and can't make out the words clearly, then this will be your answer. An extremely small hearing aid using a tiny energized unit, has been perfected by a man who himself is hard of hearing and has been for over 10 years. With his new aid, even whispers are crystal clear. If interested it is suggested you write HEARING, 32 E. 9th St., Erie, Pa. You will receive full information at no cost or obligation whatsoever.—Adv.

Cooperstown, N. Y. At every town where he climbed out of the water for the night, he has been warmly greeted by officials and local citizens. He hopes to reach the river's end at Havre de Grace, Md., July 11.

He is losing weight, too.

"I haven't weighed myself recently, but I would estimate I'm now about 210 or 208," he said. "And I intend to lose more. My natural weight is between 146 and 166."

He spends about 10 hours a day in the water swimming from 6 to 12 miles. All he consumes while swimming is water or soda.

He says he feels fine.

He looks in fine condition, too. He is heavily muscled with a barrel chest and thick arms and shoulders.

His advice to those who want to lose weight is to try swimming. But he cautions: "If you swim only a short distance, it improves your appetite."

"After swimming three-quarters or half a mile, a steak tastes three times as good."

Mailbox Door Blasted Open By Fireworks

A giant firecracker blew open the door of a post office mail depository box early Monday in the 1100 block of Pennsylvania Ave., East End, police reported.

Police were notified of the incident at 6:18 a. m. when a resident of the area telephoned headquarters and reported the door of the mailbox was standing open.

Patrolman J. W. Buckley, dispatched to investigate, radioed headquarters to contact postal authorities. Arthur McDevitt, a post office employee, made an investigation. He said it appeared a firecracker thrown into the box had blown open the door. He retrieved some scattered pieces of mail.

Two "seasonal" thefts were reported at the height of the weekend heat wave.

Delcia Williams of 102½ E. 6th St. told officers at 8:46 Monday night that an intruder forced entry and ransacked her apartment, but the only missing item was a 20-inch electric fan valued at $20.

Charles W. Hayes of 1100 Smithfield St. reported Monday afternoon at 2:48 an intruder stole an ice chest from the garage on his property, also taking men's and women's clothing from a clothes line in the back yard.

In the only case of vandalism, Ralph E. Mattern of 1706 Alpha St. said an object hurled by an unknown person broke the windshield of his compact convertible as he drove on Pennsylvania Ave. about 9:25 Monday night.

Mixed Group Swims At Park Where Racial Strife Flared

CORDELE, Ga. (AP) — A city of 11,500 which was still in a racially mixed group of 100 used swimming facilities at a state park Monday where Negroes and whites had battled with rocks and bottles several days before.

The battle, June 24, sparked 50 of the integrated group swam in the swimming pool where the melee had erupted earlier.

Whites had used the pool earlier in the day but left. The integrated group was ignored by families who spread picnic lunches on a riverbank in the park.

No one was reported injured in the gun battle, but the violence prompted Cordele city officials to clamp an all-night curfew on this south Georgia shear about a half mile from the pool.

State troopers checked every car as it entered the park. One person was arrested for carrying a pistol, and a machete and broomstick were confiscated from another automobile.

An integrated group which came to the park to go swimming Sunday found the pool had been drained.

State Parks Director Horace Caldwell said he did not know who was responsible, but he assured the group the pool would be refilled for the holiday.

Tank trucks hauled water from Cordele to fill the pool, and it was ready for swimmers on the Fourth.

It Used To Get Hot

Those who remember how hot things were before mechanical contrivances wonder how civilization survived the absence of air conditioning, electric fans, dehumidifiers, mechanical refrigeration, light-weight clothing and suspension of the once rigid rule that the human body must be clothed.

They wonder how they got along without insulated houses, automobiles to ride in driving hot evenings, up-to-the-minute weather bulletins, salt tablets, weekends, power boats, artificial lakes, mobile homes, an infinite variety of soft drinks, free ice made on the premises, ice cream delivered to the door and the option of suburban living.

As they recall it, they kept themselves cool at home with palm-leaf fans and lemonade made from lemons with the aid of a lemon squeezer and chunks of ice chipped off the 50-pound block left by the iceman that morning.

They had no illusions about staying cool at work. Heat and humidity separated the men from the boys. Those who succumbed were dragged out and told to take the rest of the day off, without pay.

Clothing was heavy and non-porous. Men were still wearing union suits in the early decades of this century and women, well, women were wearing what men used to be intrigued by when leafing through mail order catalogs.

It was hot. It was humid. You wonder how people survived, but they did—and for the simplest of all possible reasons. They didn't know there was any alternative.

Take away the mechanical contrivances they now use routinely and the population would be wiped out in the year's first onslaught of hot weather.

They would complain themselves to death.

Be Careful!

The district was fortunate to escape without a drowning over the Fourth of July holiday — but there were some close calls.

Too many youngsters are fearless to the point where they fail to use sound judgment when they go to a pool or a creek. There's a tendency for not-too-good swimmers to follow in the path of the experienced. That's generally when trouble results.

Swimming is too enjoyable a recreation to be turned into tragedy because of thoughtlessness.

There are a lot more days from now until school reopens and the old swimmin' hole will beckon time and again.

Poor judgment can erase all the benefits of proper supervision and other precautions. Parents and their children should sit down again and review the dangers that go along with the pleasure of swimming.

We'll Know What Hit Us

No American in his right mind these days takes a stand against the Flag, Motherhood or Auto Safety.

The shape of things to come is plain.

What is coming will be shaped like the federal specifications for a safe automobile. Everything will have been done to save the lives of the occupants if their supersafe auto hits something.

What it might hit is something like the rest of us, moving along the highway in the vintage cars we are going to drive until the wheels wear out because they're running fine and paid for.

They never have been in accidents.

They never have been mangled by accident-prone people. Like the overwhelming majority of autos in the United States, they are the kind that auto insurance companies dream about—the kind they collect on to pay the claims made by accident-prone customers.

But wait . . . What's bearing down on the vintage egg crates and their confident occupants? It looks like one of those new safety cars built to government specifications.

It is being driven by a madman? A drunk?

A late finisher from Sebring who lost his way? A fool? Probably a fool. Look at that go-devil!

Wham, crash, crunch, screech, sleet, tinkle and wrinkle. See our fender disintegrate. Look at that crumpled door. Look at the cut on Junior's head. And what makes Daddy look as though he had passed out on the steering wheel?

It was one of those new federal safety models, all right enough. Its passengers never knew they had hit something. Heaven help all of us who won't be able to get under the wire so we can start fresh in automobiling's forthcoming safety era. We'll be sitting ducks for fools and drunks who get new equipment with built-in security—for them only.

A Good Program

With 700 attending last week's pet shows, the role of area playgrounds in the summer recreation program has been re-emphasized.

Under sponsorship of the East Liverpool Recreation Council, the playlots offer supervised activity that provides a wholesome outlet for the energies that abound in young girls and boys.

A well-organized play-ground system involves a lot of work. It pays dividends, however, for our young people. And with expansion plans under way, the future should be even brighter in a recreation sense.

By Truman Twill

partner had seen a moving van pull out from behind the house and thought that was funny, because moving vans don't usually pull out from behind houses after dark.

"He said they found no doors unlocked or anything like that but thought they had better look into the matter, so we took the key you left with us and went over to have a look-see. What do you suppose we found?"

"Your house is bare. There isn't enough left to make a mouse happy. Everything has been taken out. It was in that moving van. All the cops noticed was that the van had Iowa license plates, but they must have been phony because the highway police cannot find any Iowa moving vans."

"Hope you are having a high old time at Perch Lake. It has been hot and humid here."

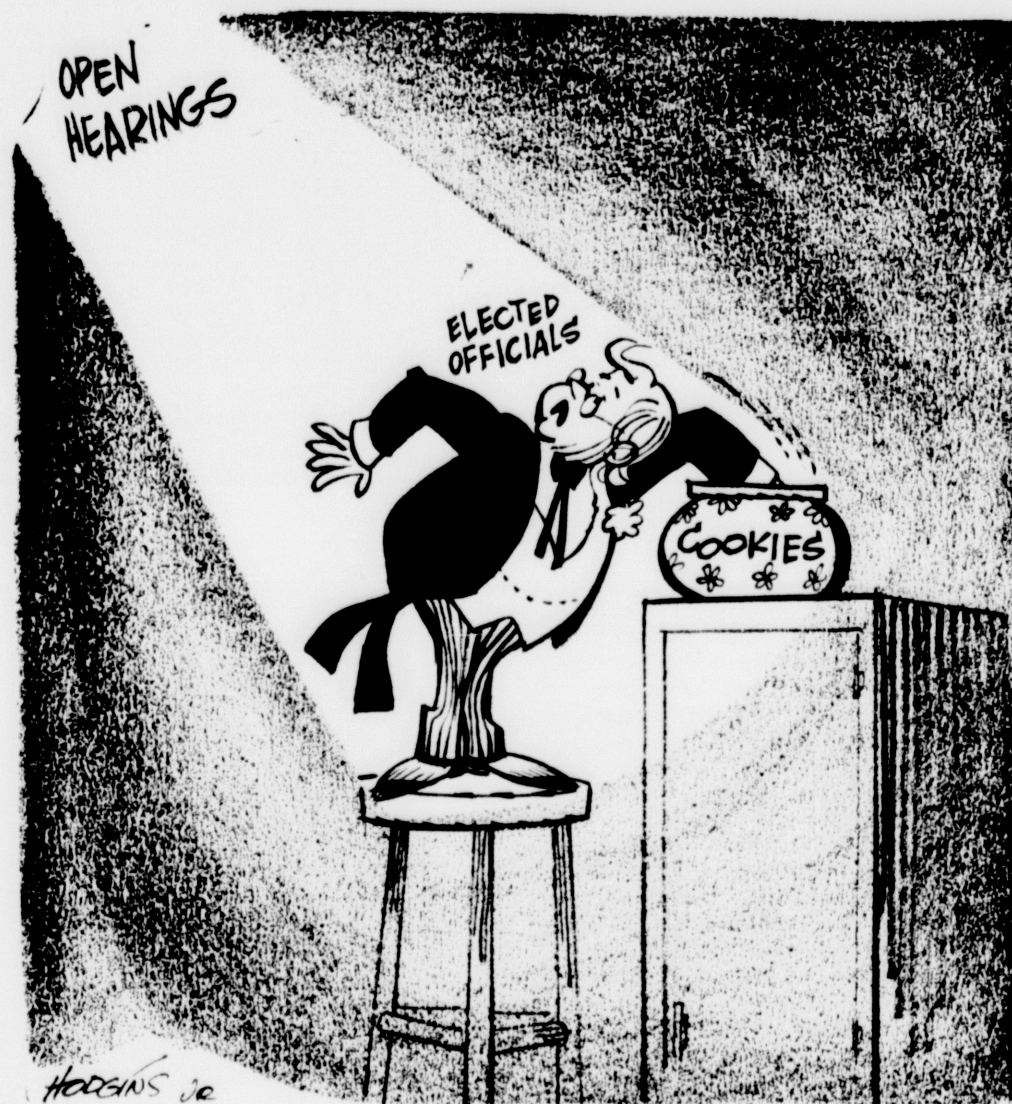

Third Note:

"Whoever you gave permission to for the use of your place while you were away took full advantage of it last night. They kept us awake until all hours, singing and carrying on."

"We are not writing about that, however. What you and your friends do is your own business. But in a spirit of neighborliness we think we should tell you water is running down the outside of the house from the second floor. Somebody must have left a faucet turned on."

"You probably are wondering how we reached you. We called your office. A girl said you no longer worked there but she remembered that last year you said you always went to the same place and she just happened to remember what it was. Wasn't that nice? Do you think we should call the fire department?"

Let's Not Have A Power Failure

Labor Terrorism Probe Opens

By Victor Riesel

Drumbeats of bullets, burning of cars, brass knuckle beatings, truly brutal bullying of businessmen and now the bombing of two clean-cut Chicago unionists are tracing a bloody pattern of violence inside labor across the United States.

At least 10 union officials—or rank and filers who have dared to dig up the muck—have been murdered or mauled and mayhemed.

For years, until recently, this gruesome violence has been dormant as racket probe followed racket probe.

Now it's business as usual. Sen. McClellan's investigators, burdened by other backbreaking probes, understaffed and underfinanced, nonetheless are looking into the lethal epidemic of killings and terror inside some of the nation's least publicized but most powerful unions.

This is a blood drench front which stretches from San Francisco to the Camden - Atlantic City coasts.

WHAT HAS ANGERED the senator and his staff is the sadistic bombing in Chicago of a car owned by Dominic Abata, head of the taxi division of Paul Hall's Seafarers' International Union.

It was the old Chicago business of dynamite wired under the hood of the auto. Young Joe Longmeyer, a clean-cut kid doing a public relations job for what is known as DUOC — Democratic Union Organizing Committee — started the car, set off the blast. At least one leg was horribly mangled. The other man in the car is one of Paul Hall's field organizers.

It's no secret that husky Paul Hall, international president of the Seafarers, has long fought the mobs in the big cities, along the waterfronts and over in Puerto Rico.

He is the AFL - CIO vice - president with the guts and physical stamina to make the fight. It may make him president of the AFL-CIO, which has real need of his brand of fearless vibrancy.

It was Paul Hall who directed the fight which took 6,000 Chicago taxi drivers from the hands of Joey Glimco's Teamsters Local 777. The men drive for the Yellow and Checker Cab Companies.

"Little Joey" is a tough man with a record of 36 arrests. Not the least of his notoriety springs from sworn testimony before the McClellan Senate Rackets Committee to the effect that he is one of the 19 rulers of syndicate crime in Chicago.

IT'S THE HALLMARK of Paul Hall's courage that his Seafarers' chief has gone into Chicago regularly to do battle.

He was there as recently as a month ago, holding public hearings inside the DUOC to air grievances; writing letters to the hackies asking them to come forward with complaints; building a democratic structure in a bloody swamp.

Since then he has returned to his Brooklyn headquarters and now is in Washington to fight for a larger American merchant marine.

Two of the men he left in the field have been bombed. He makes no accusation. He has not asked for help from the federal government.

Nonetheless, squads of FBI men zeroed in on the bombing area within an hour after the blast had hurled the two crusaders onto the grim Chicago street.

The Justice Department and the FBI want to take a "long look at this entire thing in Chicago." That's the way the put it.

No one is accusing anyone of anything. That's definite.

What the Justice Department wants to know, and what the FBI is probing and what Sen. McClellan's men are seeking, is "the why" of some Chicago labor.

HERE IT'S 1966 and a Joey Glimco still is head of a Teamsters Union — Local 777. He is active in Teamster politics. He has influence in allied unions there. He has affected the dispatch of delegates to the Teamsters' Miami Beach Convention. He is the object of a grand jury investigation.

An atmosphere has been perpetrated and perpetuated. People hearing of bombings yawn. It's all like a movie flashback to the '20s and '30s. It's no one labor man's fault, and it's everyone's fault that labor itself has not gone in and cleaned up.

Now there will be new trials and new racket hearings. There will be out-cries from inside labor.

What of the cries of pain of those cut down, of those with shattered legs and of those helpless in the tournament of terror?

Medicare Law Called 'Fuzzy'

By Raymond Moley

When the man who is called "the father of medicare" calls the law "fuzzy" and views with alarm the inequities in its prospective administration, it's small wonder that so many others are concerned. State officials, hospital managers, doctors and prospective beneficiaries are even more concerned than Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, who labored for at least four years to get the program approved by Congress.

In an interview with Anderson published in the Albuquerque Tribune, in Anderson's home state, the senator said recently:

"When we passed the medicare bill, there was a great deal said that the hospital end of it was understood fairly well. We in Congress talked about it for years and knew what it meant. Now we find out the law is fuzzy."

Anderson objects to the confusion in the plans made by the two agencies charged with the administration of the program—the Social Security Administration and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

THIS CONFUSION is an old story. The present idea of a medicare program originated in the heat of the 1960 presidential campaign. It was advocated by John F. Kennedy as a fine gesture to win the votes of the millions who had passed the age of 65.

Apparently it worked as a political issue. But the promise was recklessly made when its political sponsors hadn't the faintest idea of how the plan was to be operated. All they said was that it would be tied into the Social Security system. The working out of details was to be left to Congress and the states.

In such a political campaign, the candidate and his helpers have little time for laborious planning. Getting the votes is paramount. And Mr. Kennedy's running mate, Lyndon B. Johnson, excoriated everyone who pointed out the inequities and difficulties of putting such a gigantic plan in operation as blind and callous about the medical needs of old people.

He sneered at those who said that the plan should be limited to people who not only needed the care but whose financial means were insufficient. The expression "pauper's oath" was used in that campaign to attack the critics and doubters. Everybody, they said, should participate, whether they needed the help or not.

AFTER JOHN KENNEDY and Lyndon Johnson were elected there was a great hullabaloo designed to push the plan through Congress. That failed in the Kennedy years. Congressional committees wrestled with the idea without successfully creating a plan. Then after the death of President Kennedy, his successor, with greater influence, pushed the bill through a still doubting Congress.

Thus, Congress, under fire by pressure groups and whipped by the President, dumped the job of administering an impossible operation on the bureaucracy.

That the legislation goes far beyond even Mr. Kennedy's glowing picture in 1960 is shown by Title 19 of the act. This provision proposes to cover not only the medically needy people over 65 included in the Kerr-Mills plan enacted during the Eisenhower administration, along with the blind and the impoverished children provided for earlier, but a great many others. This will run up the costs to a tremendous and indeterminate sum—costs in federal money and matching sums from the states.

UP TO NOW eight states have passed enabling laws. Others are still trying to meet the target date as this is written. The Health, Education and Welfare Department hasn't the slightest idea of how much federal money will be needed to meet the demands of the states.

Many observers, including this writer, pointed out four or five years ago that no one could estimate the cost. Now that prediction is realized. Hospitals are faced by an unbearable burden. Doctors are unhappy about the fees allowed. The old people are waiting to flood the facilities in great numbers.

Even the "father" of medicare is unhappy about the very law he helped to pass.

Remember Korea?

By David Lawrence

History Is Repeating Itself

History is repeating itself, but only in part, as the United States this time is certainly not going to make in Viet Nam the same mistake that was made in Korea when, in deference to our allies, the American air forces were restrained from bombing Red China's bases and supply lines.

Although the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously recommended to President Truman that the bases in Red China supplying its invading armies in Korea be bombed, the labor government in Great Britain objected and the plan David Lawrence had to be abandoned. Today a labor government in London is again expressing its disapproval of this same kind of strategy, and the prime minister has said publicly that the British have "disassociated" themselves from the policy being carried out by the United States.

The present situation in Viet Nam might never have happened — and many American families could have been spared the casualties of the Viet Nam War from 1964 onward — if the lessons of Korea had been heeded.

United States forces in 1951 were permitted to bomb only the immediate targets in the north of Korea and not those bases beyond the Yalu River from which Red Chinese planes flew to attack Americans. More than 1.6 million servicemen of the United States went to Korea, and the casualties exceeded 150,000.

A RECOMMENDATION that the war be fought on a military concept by bombarding enemy targets and supply lines was revealed in April 1951 when Gen. MacArthur's views were published. This led to his removal as commander of U.N. forces. He might better not have expressed himself publicly on the subject, but from a military viewpoint he was 100 per cent right. There are today plenty of high officers in the armed services of the United States who feel about Viet Nam exactly as MacArthur did about Korea. This time, however, they are all silent.

President Johnson, fully aware of the current attitude of the military, has come to the conclusion that there is only one way to protect the lives of American forces, and that is to bomb the enemy bases and supply lines.

It well may be wondered whether the indifference of America's allies in the Korean War did not encourage the Red Chinese to come to the aid of the North Vietnamese Communists in their effort to seize South Viet Nam.

There is some suggestion in London reports that Prime Minister Wilson has hitherto been giving moral support to bombing raids against military installations in North Viet Nam, despite constant opposition from left-wingers and Communist sympathizers within his own party but that now he has found it necessary, under pressure to denounce the bombardment of supply bases.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE do not like the Viet Nam War any more than they did the Korean War or World War II or World War I but there are certain necessities which have to do with the preservation of America's own safety and vital interests throughout the world. The real issue is whether, when the lives of Americans are being risked, they should be protected to the fullest degree under the recognized rules of warfare — by maximum use of power in the air, on the sea and on the land.

Unless these military rules are applied, a bigger war can ensue, and the enemy will be encouraged to take chances, as Red China did in Korea and now has done again in Viet Nam. The difference between the Korean and Viet Nam wars is that in the latter the United States is not bound today by any restrictions imposed by the United Nations, and can fight the war on a military basis.

The Korean War remains a blot on history. Repeated efforts to reunify Korea failed, primarily because the Red Chinese and the Soviets blocked any such plan, though the principle was originally embodied in an agreement to establish within five years after the close of World War II a free and independent Korea.

The existing armistice agreement in Korea took two years to consummate and has since been frequently violated by the Communists.

Unfortunately, it has become necessary to fight another war to convince the Red Chinese that the United States does not intend to allow aggression to go unrepelled.

County Has Safe 4th Despite Heavy Traffic

Despite heavy traffic over the holiday weekend — especially in the recreation areas such as Guilford Lake and Beaver Creek State Park — there were comparatively few serious traffic accidents and no highway fatalities in Columbiana County.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon today listed three mishaps on Route 172 in the Guilford district Sunday, but no one was injured seriously.

Officers reported a total of 15 accidents since Friday night, including six injury accidents in which 14 were hurt.

John E. Price, 52, of 417 18th St., Wellsville, was cited by the patrol after his 1965 sedan and a sports car collided on Route 172 a short distance west of Route 9 at 1:25 p. m.

Officers said Price backed out onto the roadway and was struck by a 1965 auto operated by Lee Lewis, 24, of Akron, who was headed east. Price was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Leroy McIntosh, 22, of Columbiana was slightly injured when his 1965 coupe careened off Route 172, about 4½ miles east of Route 30 at 4:50 p. m. and rolled over.

McIntosh was headed east when the car went off the right side of the road, crossed back over and struck a utility pole, overturning on its top. He was charged with speeding.

William Albert Green, 18, of Negley R. D. 1 escaped injury when his car veered off Route 172 about 100 feet west of Route 30 at 10:30 p. m. and struck an embankment.

He lost control at a curve and the car went off the highway, came back across the road and struck a ditch and the embankment.

During the three-day holiday period, officers made 100 arrests, issued 46 warnings for mechanical defects and gave assistance to 25 motorists.

The auxiliary patrol officer spent 36 hours on desk duty, thus, with civilian dispatchers, relieving uniformed patrolmen for road duty. Auxiliary officers also spent 156 hours on patrol with regular officers, according to Sgt. R. J. Rizzo, commander.

East End Driver Cited By Officer In Minor Crash

An East End man was cited on a charge of improper backing of a motor vehicle after a minor collision at Pennsylvania and Dewey Aves. Monday at 3:57 p. m., police reported.

Charles Papendry, 50, of 1911 Ohio Ave. was charged in connection with a collision between his backing 1959 model station wagon and a halted 1963 compact car driven by Alice O. Conkle, 55, of 345 E. 9th St., police said.

The mishap damaged the front of the Conkle car and the rear of Papendry's auto. Papendry said the light changed as he approached and his car went part through the intersection. Then the brake line on his car broke, allowing it to drift backward into the Conkle car, he told police.

The woman said she halted for the traffic signal and then saw Papendry backing, signaling for her to back also. She said she could not reverse her auto because of another in the rear. Papendry was cited under a section of the City Code that requires the driver of a backing car to give a signal, then "exercise vigilance" to assure he does not injure any person or property.

Papendry's hearing is set for Thursday at 9 a. m. in Municipal Court.

Madison Twp. Trustees Will Ask 2 Levies

Plans for submitting a 2-mill levy for the operation of the township road program and a 1-mill levy for the operation of the township police department were disclosed during a meeting of the Madison Township trustees at the township garage in West Point.

Sherman Rohr Jr. of Givens Rd. was appointed a member of the police department after completing the required 120 hours of police school at Lisbon, under the direction of Sheriff Russell VanFossan.

The police report for June follows:

Miles patrolled, 960; one accident investigated on Route 424, and Ohio State Highway Patrol notified of three others, 40 complaints received; breaking and entering at the Curtis Joy residence on the Township Lane Rd. investigated; two auto fires on Routes 424 and 267 investigated, and two sanitation complaints turned over to the county health office, concerning dumping of waste in a creek and lack of a septic tank.

Present at the meeting were George Dunn, president; Isaac Jones, Frank Woodrow and Regis S. Clark.

The proposed 1966-67 budget will be read July 19 at 7:30 p. m. at the township garage, with the public invited to attend.

A post-graduation party was given by Miss Cathy McKinnon, Miss Gave Bourne and Miss Jane Althar Saturday night at the homes of Miss McKinnon and Miss Bourne, who are neighbors on Lisbon St. and Fisher Park.

They are recent graduates of East Liverpool High School. In the fall they will enter college. Miss McKinnon at Robert Morris at Moon Township; Miss Althar, Robert Morris in Pittsburgh, and Miss Bourne, Mount Union at Alliance.

Patio lights and rainbow color streamers were suspended above the patios of the adjoining lawns. Small tables, arranged for two couples, were covered with white cloths and centered with colored tapers and spring flowers.

A wishing well with a red-striped canopy and lawn furniture completed the garden setting. Stereos were provided for dancing.

Each of the 40 guests brought a baby picture, which was mounted on a bulletin board. During the evening they tried to match the person with the photo.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table covered with a pink cloth and featuring brass hurricane candles. Centerpieces included a large cake, inscribed with the names of the girls and decorated with a mortarboard cap and an arrangement of roses on a wicker tray.

Mrs. Rex Dingey, a former member, presented the program during the smorgasbord dinner meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Second Church of Christ Monday night in the social rooms.

She accompanied herself on the autoharp as she sang "The Ninety and Nine," in memory of the late Mrs. Robert Schondelmayer, and "He'll Understand And Say Well Done."

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Jennie Rough, who used the subject "Check and Policies For Eternal Life." She closed with a poem, "I'm Not Growing Old." Mrs. Elta Mae Spore offered prayer. The group sang "America."

Mrs. Hilda Cole, president, conducted business during which a thank-you note was read from the Community Rescue Mission for recently received towels and washcloths.

Named to a planning committee were Mrs. Virginia Stewart, Mrs. Alva Poole and Mrs. Florence Goddard.

THE RUINS REMAIN. Overpopulation, crowding and famine are all problems faced in India today, but the land is one of contrast. Just a few miles from the modern capital of New Delhi stands ruins of Tughlaqabad and the fort of Tughlaq Shah. Not a soul can be seen for miles, and modern India seems centuries away.

Cement Block Incident Fails To Perturb Queen

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip basked in the affection of loyal Orangemen today on the final day of the royal visit to Northern Ireland. Not even the queen's limousine showed any scars from an anti-British incident Monday.

A large dent in the hood of the queen's Rolls-Royce was beaten out and painted over after the car had been hit by a cement block while the royal couple drove through the city. It weighed about 12 pounds and was hurled from the fourth floor of a building under reconstruction.

If the block had landed a few feet farther back it would have shattered the car's bubbletop. Police arrested a young man in the building and had to smuggle him out the back way to protect him from a howling crowd of angry Belfast citizens.

Two minutes earlier a woman had hurled a beer bottle at the car. It burst near the wheels but caused no damage. The woman was arrested.

The composure of the royal couple seemed jarred briefly by the cement-block attack, but the queen was all smiles again Monday night at a ceremony on Belfast's military parade ground to mark the 50th anniversary of the World War I Battle of the Somme.

She got an especially warm welcome from the crowd. Thousands joined in a loud rendition of "God Save the Queen."

Belfast police said the two attacks did not seem connected, nor was there any indication they were staged by any political organizations. Some members of Parliament had urged cancellation of the royal visit to Northern Ireland because it came after weeks of religious controversy between Protestants and Roman Catholics which had cost three lives.

will be held at a meeting of Newell Rebekah Lodge 74 Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Maxine Burch, district deputy president, will be the installing officer.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Gladys Lytton, Mrs. Elma Lowers, Mrs. Helen McClain and Mrs. Nancy Miller.

Mrs. Jessie Looman, noble grand, will preside.

Chester Personals

Graham Claims London Crusade Great Success

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Billy Graham has pronounced his month-long London crusade a remarkable success and says he is coming back to Britain in September to speak to the 42,487 who made "decisions for Christ."

The American evangelist said the turnout at his nightly meetings and those conducted by associates totaled 1,024,368.

He told a news conference Monday he was especially gratified at the interest shown by young people, with 70 to 75 per cent of the audience at some meetings under 25 years of age.

"The crusade has proven that young people will listen to the authoritative proclamation of the gospel," he said.

At the outset of the news conference, Dr. Graham said he had no intention of being drawn into political issues. Some reporters later tried to elicit comments about Viet Nam but he smiled and said:

"I used to make statements that were politically misconstrued but I don't any more. I preach Christ's message only."

Dr. Graham wound up his crusade Saturday night at Wembley Stadium before a crowd of 94,347 — with thousands of others unable to get there because of the traffic jam.

Sharply critical about the moral climate in Britain when he arrived, he was asked his views now and replied:

"I would think the moral climate is better than I had thought when I came. There are danger signs both in America and Britain but that is not to say either America or Britain is a decadent nation."

Dr. Graham said he found a "widespread interest in religion" in England — and among the young men in long-hair and young girls in mini-skirts.

Even in Chelsea — Britain's Bohemian district often compared to New York's Greenwich Village — he said he found a "religious revival that was amazing." He did not elaborate.

The evangelist, citing what he described as one of the major achievements of his crusade, said about 50 per cent of those who came forward to dedicate themselves to Christ had acknowledged they had not been regular church goers — or even gone to any church.

The Graham crusade wound up in the black financially, with good prospects of a surplus. Sir Cyril Black, Conservative member of Parliament who was chairman of the finance committee, said the estimated cost of $300,000 pounds ($840,000) would be met. Giving a rundown of the finances, Sir Cyril listed:

Donations — 181,000 pounds ($506,000); miscellaneous (including sale of song books, literature) 43,000 pounds ($120,000); offerings at meetings 80,000 pounds ($224,000).

Sir Cyril said there was more pledged and collections to be counted.

copter from the carrier Kearsarge. His name was withheld. It was the 27th U.S. plane reported lost in action over North Viet Nam and the Tonkin Gulf.

The U.S. Command reported that an HU-1B helicopter was shot down by Viet Cong ground fire in the South six miles southwest of Vin Long city and about 75 miles southwest of Saigon. A spokesman said he had no report on the fate of the crew, normally two to four men.

Air Force B-52 bombers struck at two enemy targets 35 miles south of Da Nang. One was a Viet Cong troop area and the other a headquarters camp. The raids were six miles south of B-52 raids Sunday and Monday.

Elsewhere over the South Monday, U.S. and Vietnamese pilots flew 568 combat sorties — single strikes by single planes — killing possibly 130 Viet Cong and destroying or damaging nearly 700 structures, a spokesman said.

A battalion of the U.S. 25th Infantry ended Operation Fort Smith in an area 25 miles northwest of Saigon. The infantrymen killed 19 Viet Cong and captured six in the drive which began June 3.

The U.S. Command also disclosed that the 183rd Airborne Brigade had been conducting a multibattalion sweep — Operation Yorktown — 40 miles northeast of Saigon — since June 23. In the only flareup of fighting, the paratroopers killed 23 Viet Cong in a two-hour battle Sunday, a spokesman said. American casualties were reported light.

About 500 guerrillas raked the Trai Bi Special Forces camp 65 miles northwest of Saigon and eight miles from the Cambodian border with small-arms and mortar fire for an hour and a half Monday until air strikes drove the Communists off. A U.S. spokesman reported light casualties among the Vietnamese and U.S. Special Forces defenders.

Artillery fire beat back an attack by about 150 Viet Cong against the camp Sunday night. About the same time other guerrillas attacked the Duc Co Special Forces camp 210 miles north of Saigon with no more success. Saturday night, the Viet Cong made a hit-and-run raid on the Plei Djereng Special Forces camp 20 miles farther north.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime bid for more popular support today by installing an 80-member civilian-military advisory council to help the ruling generals govern the country.

The 60 civilians, including two women, came from a cross-section of many anti-Communist groups in South Viet Nam, including southern Buddhists, Roman Catholics and the Hoa Hao and Cao Dai sects. But there was no one from the Unified Buddhist Church, which claims a following of about 2 million. Its leaders waged the recent unsuccessful campaign to oust Ky and his chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu.

The council will join the Cabinet and a so-called War Council in advising the regime but the final power will continue with the directorate or ruling junta.

Ky in a speech at the installation ceremony said the road to political stability would be difficult but he was working for a compromise with the militant Buddhists. "We have already reached an understanding," he said.

The government freed about 100 Buddhist monks and nuns and 182 youths arrested in the recent antigovernment disorders, explaining "these troublemakers have shown repentance."

The American air raids near the North Vietnamese cities of Hanoi and Haiphong brought a new denunciation from Red China, but this time the Soviet Union was the main target of Peking's wrath. The Communist party paper Peking People's Daily said the U.S. attacks in the Hanoi-Haiphong heartland were "a product of the filthy political deal concluded between the United States and the Soviet Union."

The Peking journal also labeled as "a lot of hot air" the offer made by President Johnson in Des Moines, Iowa, last Thursday to send his closest and most trusted associates to peace talks on a few hours' notice.

Wilkins Snubs Philosophy Of Black Power

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The philosophy of black power has been embraced by one national civil rights group, but rejected by a leader of another — the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, said before the opening today of the association's convention that there is little likelihood the concept of black power will be accepted by the NAACP.

In Baltimore Sunday, the Congress of Racial Equality concluded its convention by adopting black power as the dominant philosophy of the movement.

Lincoln Lynch, associate national director of CORE, defined the concept as "the effective control and self-determination of men of color in their own areas."

"Power is the total control of economic, political, educational and social wealth," Lynch continued, "and the exercise of this power is simply that which all other groups in American society have done to acquire their share of American life."

CORE also called for withdrawal of U.S. troops from Viet Nam and pledged support for persons refusing to serve in the military.

Wilkins said the opening of the NAACP's 57th annual convention finds the civil rights movement progressing well.

"However, I must admit," Wilkins said, "gains have not been as rapid or as far-reaching as we all might like."

"I think this situation will improve as soon as enough people recover from the illusion that the 1964 Civil Rights Act solved everything," he added.

Reykjavik, Iceland — About 50 Communists demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy where Ambassador James K. Pentfield was holding a reception.

interests in freedom, security and peace."

"The basic policies and objectives in the international community of the two countries are the same," said Shima, adding that mutual respect for the positions of each would "develop a partnership for international cooperation."

Much of the conference is to be devoted to economic questions, and the U.S. delegation included Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

The Japanese leftists mustered 5,000 demonstrators outside the Osaka Airport for Rusk's arrival from Formosa Monday, but 4,500 police kept them well away from the airport and the secretary's motorcade escaped by a back gate.

Wellsville Man Due For Hearing

Willis Plumm of 347 Commerce St., Wellsville, was scheduled to receive a hearing today before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville on a charge of "being in physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol."

Plumm was cited following an accident Saturday at 4 p. m. on Commerce St. in front of his home.

Police said Plumm backed his car from the driveway and hit another operated by James A. Nelson, 21, of 5th Ave. LaCroft, who was headed west on Commerce.

Plumm's car then backed into a home owned by George Coleman of 341 Broadway. Plumm posted a $200 bond for appearance, police said.

Charles Turick of 1516 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, forfeited a $50 bond when he failed to appear this morning before Daugherty on a charge of assault and battery.

The charges were filed by his sister-in-law, Mary Turick of 1751 Main St., who charged he struck her on Main St. early Sunday morning.

The woman was examined at City Hospital, while Turick was treated for possible injury of the hand and wrist.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Actress Susan Hayward flew from her Fort Lauderdale, Fla., home to be baptized a Roman Catholic in Pittsburgh by a priest she met in Rome.

The Rev. Daniel J. McGuire of Sts. Peter and Paul Church revealed Monday the baptism, which took place on Miss Hayward's 47th birthday Thursday.

"She had been thinking about this for some time," said Father McGuire.

The priest said he met the actress in 1958 while serving as American secretary at Jesuit headquarters in Rome.

Family Planning Grants Seen Available To Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver, director of the antipoverty program, says family planning grants will be made available to the poor if they are desired.

"There is absolutely no hesitation on my part or, as far as I know, on anyone's part in Washington to approve family planning grants," Shriver said in an interview.

"As far as I know I have signed every such grant which has come to my desk. I shall continue to do so."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources in Washington are mentioning the Dominican Republic as an alternate site for next month's Inter-American summit conference.

The conference is scheduled to be held in Buenos Aires, but the change in sites — because of the military coup that ousted President Arturo Illia of Argentina — reportedly has considerable Latin-American support.

The conference was called to update the peace-keeping and economic machinery of the Organization of American States.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert M. Ball, commissioner of social security, says elderly patients under the medicare program apparently have not made a postholiday rush to the nation's hospitals.

"Admissions are running at normal rates," Ball said. "It seems fair to assume that the program will not increase hospital utilization above the anticipated level of 5 per cent — and that will be absorbed in most places with little trouble."

Ball made the statement Monday after a survey of 200 representative hospitals showed only normal advance reservations for Tuesday and Wednesday.

Show Of Police Strength Averts Rioting At Resorts

By The Associated Press
An almost continuous show of police strength and speedy action was credited by authorities at both Russells Point and Geneva-on-the-Lake with preventing a recurrence of last year's rioting over the July 4 weekend.

Record crowds were reported at both resorts—more than 75,000 at Russells Point Sunday—but troublesome incidents were relatively few. This was in sharp contrast to last year when nearly 500 persons were arrested in the two areas and hundreds of National Guardsmen had to be called out to stop rioting.

A vanguard of about 200 police armed with tear gas, night sticks and shotguns dispersed an unruly crowd of about 4,000 young people early Monday at Russells Point in the most serious disturbance.

"A riot was averted by a strong show of force," said Russells Point Police Chief O. E. Tate.

Mayor John Kirby ordered the crowd to disperse, and when that failed, at least three tear gas bombs thrown by officers broke up the gathering.

No one was injured and there was practically no property damage.

Last year, store fronts were smashed and autos overturned with loss estimated in the many thousands of dollars. More than 175 young persons were arrested in that rioting.

In contrast, this year about 125 persons were arrested, mostly on minor charges, throughout the long weekend. Only about 25 were jailed after they failed to post bond.

At Geneva-on-the-Lake along Lake Erie, Mayor Wilson Finley credited a show of police strength over the weekend with helping to prevent an outbreak like last year, when more than 300 persons were arrested.

Sunday night, on reports that motorcycle gangs were headed toward the resort, Ashland County Sheriff Tom Fasula requested and was granted the use of 50 Ohio National Guardsmen to help put down any trouble.

The Guardsmen were never needed and were demobilized late Monday.

A beefed-up force of more than 100 law officers quickly dispersed a crowd of about 400 persons early Monday.

More than 100 disorderly conduct arrests were made over the weekend at Geneva-on-the-Lake.

Minnesota's Blasted With Heavy Storm

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes, severe thunderstorms, hail and high winds hit Minnesota Monday night as the torrid East, baked by several days of 100-degree heat, cooled to seasonable temperature.

Numerous funnel clouds and tornadoes were sighted in the area between Fargo, N.D., and St. Cloud, Minn. Winds up to 70 miles an hour ripped through St. Cloud uprooting many trees in the area. The highway patrol reported that U.S. 10 east of the town was blocked by fallen timber.

Hail as large as softballs pounded the town of Detroit Lakes, Minn. Large chunks of ice broke countless windows and dented many cars. Drenching rains, estimated at 3.5 inches, accompanied the hail.

A tornado warning for central and southeast Minnesota and northwest Wisconsin remained in effect early this morning.

Meanwhile, the East was reviving from a blazing sun that had brought temperatures to a record of 103 at Philadelphia Monday. It was the first time in 95 years of record keeping that the mercury was 100 or better for three straight days in that city.

At Harrisburg in central Pennsylvania the mercury hit 104 Monday after a scorching 107 on Sunday.

Temperatures in upstate New York, well over the 100 mark in many areas Sunday, moderated to the 80s and 90s Monday and to the upper 60s and low 70s Monday night.

Some 340,000 residents in 11 South Buffalo, N.Y., suburbs faced a severe water shortage and strict

New York City dropped to 78 degrees at midnight, 20 degrees below the day's high. Many roads in the metropolitan area buckled from the heat, including two lanes of three-lane Long Island Expressway in Nassau County.

Elsewhere, scattered showers and thunderstorms occurred ahead of a slow-moving cold front stretching from Indiana to Maryland. A few thunderstorms were also reported in the South.

Bans on unnecessary use of water.

6,000 At Palestine Witness Fireworks

EAST PALESTINE — An estimated 6,000 viewed a fireworks display at City Park Monday night.

A total of 1,800 were reported at the park's pool during the day. Because of the recent heat wave, June attendance at the pool was the largest in many years.

THE SCHOOL LIGHTING RATE:

THERE'S A STRING ATTACHED!

Our competitor, the electric company, almost did something great for schools.

They've offered to reduce the rates they charge schools for lighting to 1¢ per kilowatt hour. This would be wonderful... except for the string attached.

You see, they don't plan to cut the lighting rate for all schools. Just for some of them. The rest of the schools would still have to pay twice as much for their lighting.

To get the one-cent lighting rate, schools would have to use electricity for their heating, too. And the cost of heating with electricity is three times as much as heating with Gas. No electric heat... no special rate on lighting.

The schools that don't heat with electricity would have to shell out an average of $7.50 per classroom per month more for their lights.

(It's as though you had to pay twice as much to operate the lights in your home as your next-door neighbor just because you'd rather heat with Gas, coal or oil.)

Think that's fair? We don't, so we'd like to make a constructive suggestion to the electric company here and now.

Why not charge all the schools the same low rate for their lighting, and not just single out the few who're willing to put in expensive electric heat?

We think this would be the fair way to really do something for our schools and our children. Without the strings.

Don't you?

THINK OF ALL THE THINGS YOU CAN DO WITH THE MONEY YOU SAVE. GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

No Wedding Cake For TV

The nation's television audiences are not going to get to watch Luci Baines Johnson get married to Pat Nugent on Aug. 6. The White House has said no to such TV coverage.

But there is a possibility, according to New York TV news sources, that TV cameras will be permitted to show President Johnson escorting his daughter down the aisle of the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington.

The mass and wedding ceremony will be off-limits except to still cameras. Prints of these pictures will be made available to all news media including TV.

The White House has agreed that the entire ceremony should be filmed for posterity, but none of this footage will be released for public exhibition.

There has been some hope in TV circles that portions of this "family film" might be obtained for TV, but the prospects now seem doubtful.

OTHERWISE, TV coverage of the event will be limited largely to shots of the wedding party leaving the White House and arriving at and leaving the rites at the Catholic shrine. No live coverage will be permitted of the reception at the White House afterward. Filmed shots of the receiving line will be released for delayed use.

NBC for some weeks has been filming scenes of various aspects of the wedding preparations. These sequences will be incorporated into an hour-long special to be shown on the evening of the wedding.

A CBS official said that network also plans to air a special, but would not disclose the hour or length of it.

ABC has not indicated any expectation of this sort.

THE REPUBLICANS are engaged in one of those periodic grapples — the Democrats have had them, too — with the question of what, if anything, should be done about the historic format of the nominating conventions in the light of their glaring exposure to millions of TV viewers.

The GOP is being goaded on the subject by former President Eisenhower, who favors barring all reporters, press as well as TV and radio, from the convention floor.

In a current magazine article, Mr. Eisenhower contends that the conventions now represent "exercises in chaos and tumult — unmanly, undignified, ridiculous."

A Republican committee on convention reforms, headed by National Committeeman Harley B. Markham, an outdoor-advertising man from Idaho, met recently in New York to view video tapes of the 1964 convention and discuss with network officials how clutter and confusion on the convention floor might be reduced.

The GOP group had another meeting in Washington last week, this time with the working press.

The chances of any immediate drastic reforms, however, are looked upon as slim. Too many deeply entrenched traditions stand in the way.

ABC NOW HAS confirmed reports that David Frost, former British correspondent for NBC's extinct "That Was the Week That Was," will produce and star in an hour special for the forthcoming "Stage 67" series of entertainments.

Frost has rounded up Sir Laurence Olivier, Albert Finney and Peter Sellers to accompany him on "A Night Out in London." He is negotiating for some additional "international stars" for the show, ABC said. The intent of the filmed hour, according to the network, will be to demonstrate "the new vitality" of London's nightlife.

Bob Young, ABC's weekend late evening newsmen, has been named London correspondent effective Aug. 10. His successor on the weekend stints has not been chosen.

Ken Murray, Hollywood's indefatigable home movie historian, will be back on NBC next season with more of those film clips to fill out the Tuesday and Saturday night movies. Murray says he has color footage going back to the 1930s of such early movie favorites as Tom Mix and W. C. Fields.

Six Are Killed As Light Planes Collide, Crash

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — Two light planes collided and crashed Monday about five miles east of here, taking six lives.

The two single-engine aircraft hit the ground about a mile apart. One exploded and burned, killing Jesse Smith of Livermore and Tony Arroyo of Pacifica.

The other plane crashed in a field, killing Judd Rose of Livermore, George Rain of Pacific Grove, and Richard and Yvonne Hardesty of San Jose.

An eye witness told sheriff's deputies one plane appeared to have struck the other from below.

Deputies said a Civil Aeronautics Board investigation had been launched. Both planes had taken off from Livermore Airport shortly before the crash.

5,000 Turkeys Die In Record Heat Wave

WILLIAMSTOWN, N. J. (AP) — William N. Bappert, a turkey farmer, called for help from the fire department when 5,000 of his birds died in the record-breaking heat wave.

Fire Chief Edward Derriksen sent trucks to spray water over Bappert's surviving 10,000 birds Monday and to create a mud wallow for them.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Children Can Be Trained To Sleep

Every morning thousands and thousands of youngsters from 1 to 5 or 6 awaken with the birds and usually require the mother or whole family to do so, too. Accordingly these children and their parents get one or two hours less sleep daily than they need and could get. It Dr. Garry Myers is possible to train a little child to sleep up to any reasonable regular hour in the morning. Most mothers don't believe this to be true. I have seen it happen with our own children when they were babies and I have seen it happen with some of our grandchildren.

What most mothers do is to get up in the morning when the baby or young child becomes provide the tot with toys and an alarm clock. Some mothers playthings to amuse himself in bed or let him find other amusement about the house. In doing so these mothers may resume their morning rest for a desirable time. But they don't train the youngster to get the sleep he needs or to conform to a desirable program for the family.

SOMETIMES the very early waking by the youngster arises over his habit of having an early morning bottle or needing to go to the toilet. In some difficult instances taking care of these matters at an earlier morning hour, with the prompting of the clock, solves this problem. Even then the youngster can and needs to learn to return to sleeping.

In most instances the baby and young child is awakened by the morning light. Drawing of the shades may help in some cases.

But the usual problem is for the youngster to learn that he must not get up or make any noise till his mother calls him or until the clock rings. The latter usually is more effective. Obviously the longer the infant and young child has practiced at getting up in the morning when he awakens the harder it is to train him to sleep on to a desirable later time.

Suppose your tot 2, 3 or 4 has been waking up and getting you up unduly early. Wishing to train him to sleep up to a later regular time, proceed as follows:

TELL HIM at bedtime tonight that he is to lie still and be quiet tomorrow morning till the clock rings. If, tomorrow morning, he awakens earlier, go to him and tell him clearly he must stay in bed and keep quiet till he hears the bell ring. If he gets up again or makes a noise, go to him and, except for an emergency, bare his thighs and give him a few lusty slaps with your bare flat hand. Put him in a horizontal position and repeat the requirement.

If he rises again and makes a noise too early, repeat the "ceremony." Say nothing about sleep, just that he must stay down and keep quiet. With nothing else to do and the world so drab, he will almost surely go back to sleep.

Keep repeating as often as necessary to get results. It may require several repetitions the first morning and on several succeeding mornings. But if you are consistent you may have him trained in less than a week. Then you will have added hours to your rest and his for an indefinite period of time, probably for years.

My bulletins "Love and Restraint" and "Sleep Problems With Children" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Burning Of Cross Marks Climax Of Klansmen's Rally

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A cross burning Monday night marked the end of a three-day Ku Klux Klan rally at a farm owned by Parkie Scott of nearby Oregon.

The Warren County Sheriff's Department reported that the concluding ceremonies went off without any known incidents.

Rain fell throughout most of the evening and a Klan spokesman said the cross had to be soaked three times with kerosene before the fire would catch.

Scott said "several" persons took out membership cards in the Klan earlier in the day.

The spokesman said more than 200 persons attended the final ceremonies. A deputy sheriff said he didn't believe there were that many there as he counted only about 25 cars. A newsman said he counted 37 persons, eight of them wearing robes.

Negro Man Has Own Integration March

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A Negro man began his own integration march here Monday by walking about 10 miles — all within the ticket line leading to a segregated swimming pool.

Christopher Thorne, 28, pledged he would return to the pool every weekend through the summer until he matched the 250 miles covered by the recent Mississippi marchers.

Thorne walked 100 times to the ticket window at Rock Lake pool — several times with his wife and infant son — and was rejected each time.

He would then return to the end of the line and work his way forward. "Somebody called it a minuscule Mississippi march," Thorne said, "and that's about the size of it."

Big Haul Made

By Holdup Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A holdup man made a big haul when he robbed two Dayton men in the parking lot of a supper club here late Monday. Police said the victims reported loss of more than $2,100 in cash plus a diamond ring and stickpin valued at more than $42,000.

Victims of the holdup, John Daily, an auto dealer, and Kenneth P. Jones, Dayton police detective, said they were seated in their car when the holdup man pushed a revolver through the window and demanded their money.

Daily told police he forked over $2,100 in cash, and Jones $20. In addition, Daily said he had to give the robber a diamond ring he valued at $14,000. He said the diamonds were insured by Lloyd's of London.

At Least 30 Killed

Dreaded Traffic
Death Toll Rises
On Ohio's Roads

By The Associated Press
The Grim Reaper patrolled Ohio's highways and streets over the Fourth of July weekend as the dreaded traffic death toll rose to expected proportions for the 78-hour period.

At least 30 persons were killed in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday, just three short of the number safety official predicted would die.

Adding to the death list were at least 12 drownings in most of those victims swimmers among the thousands who went to the pools, rivers and beaches for the holiday.

And another three persons were killed by lightning while on a picnic in Masury, Trumbull County. The victims, Samuel Tallo, 50, Masury; John P. Groff, 55, Youngstown and Goff's son, John, 5, were part of a group attending a picnic at the home of Harry Cedaker when a thunderstorm came up. Lightning apparently hit a tree, glanced off and struck the three.

Two of those who drowned lost their lives in the Sandusky River south of Tiffin. Both had been swimming in the same general area and drowned within minutes apart.

The traffic victims included a fireman who was responding to an alarm in Ashland. The fire truck rounded a corner and he fell off the vehicle and died a few hours later.

There were at least two crashes which claimed three lives apiece—one in Elyria and the other, in Cleveland.

The July Fourth death toll doubled that of the Memorial Day period when 15 died in traffic accidents. And 46 lost their lives in traffic during the New Years period.

The latest highway victims:

Subway Fare Boosted
Nickel In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The price of a subway ride in New York was up a nickel today. The increase, from 15 to 20 cents, affected most of the city's bus lines as well, and was expected to hit all of them in a few days.

Although long anticipated, the timing of the fare boost, announced on the afternoon of the July 4 holiday, caught most New Yorkers by surprise.

It was the first fare increase in 13 years. The Transit Authority said it "confidently expects that the 20-cent fare will be maintained for at least a year."

Contractor Reports
Theft Of Equipment

ROGERS — Contractors working at Lake Tomahawk in Middleton Township reported the theft of five chain saws and a gasoline motor air compressor Sunday.

The equipment was in a locked farmhouse at the dam site. Sheriff's Deputy James (Ronnie) Gause said the intruder forced the door open with a bar.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our children are 3 and 4 years old. They are bright and active and, I believe, quite well-behaved for their ages.

My husband wants me to have dinner with him in the dining room every evening, just the two of us. The children, he says, should be fed in the kitchen before he gets home. According to him, a man who works hard all day is entitled to a quiet, relaxing dinner. He says the children are noisy and messy and that they give him indigestion.

I would like to know what you think about this. And please tell me what to do. — PICKET FENCE.

Dear Picket: A father who is unable to tolerate the sight and sound of his children at mealtime is an emotional basket case. I feel terribly sorry for him.

Feed the children in the dining room before their father comes home. Sit with them so they will not feel completely abandoned during meal time. Urge your husband to see a psychiatrist before he creates such a huge gulf between himself and his children that it can never be bridged.

Irate Writer

Dear Ann: I have read your column for years but this is the first time I have become angry enough to write. My anger is not directed at you, but at some of the so-called intellectual elite of our country — the college crowd who, at the ripe old age of 20, think they know all the answers.

I was especially teed off by the little chick who wrote, "The girl who gives her body gives nothing of significance because it's the gift of the mind that counts." And I liked your answer, advising her not to give her mind away too often because she didn't have much to spare.

Doesn't the nitwit realize that the mind and the body are one? The body is not capable of registering a feeling, or an idea. Every physical impulse must reach us through the mind. The brain decides what we do about our feelings — whether to scream when we turn an ankle, cry when we get slapped, or give in to a smooth talker who wants to drag every girl to bed for the same reason he wants to knock down all the pins in the bowling alley.

The college girl who scoffed at virginity as the most overrated virtue since Queen Victoria should be told that the girl who waits until marriage proves that she had enough self-control to wait — and that's worth something these days. — WITHERED OLD LADY OF 27.

Dear Lady: That chick you referred to certainly produced a heap of mail from angry coeds. Chickie said a survey in her dorm revealed that 85 per cent of the girls were make-outs and 15 per cent were hold-outs.

"Not so," screamed the letters from many, many campuses. And I'm inclined to agree with the protesters.

'Gimme' Game

Dear Ann: A family friend is being married next month. Today my husband received an invitation to a bachelor's party. At the bottom of the "invitation" was written this message: "Donation for golf clubs for the groom — $8 please."

We have never heard of such a thing and wonder if this is a new trend? — JUST FOLKS.

Dear Folks: The word "donation" suggests that the groom is a charity case. Is he?

It's proper for invited guests to pool resources and buy a gift for a bride or a groom but to request a "donation" by mail is in abominable taste. I hope your husband sent his regrets.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

LBJ Playing Game: Keeps 'Em Guessing

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — President Johnson continues a holiday stay at his ranch today playing one of the games he seems to enjoy best: keeping 'em guessing.

Johnson, more secretive about travel plans than any president in memory, was saying not a word about his eventual return to the White House. Guesses, admittedly uneducated, ranged from tonight to next Monday.

The President flew to his ranch home, some 60 miles north of here, last Thursday after making speeches concerning Viet Nam in Omaha and Des Moines. He ordered an exhaustive study of the military draft Saturday and, on the Fourth of July, signed a freedom of information bill designed to build into federal law the concept of "the people's right to know."

With specified exceptions, such as national security matters, information in federal files will have to be made public to newsmen and private citizens starting July 4, 1967.

If not, an individual can bring action in the federal courts where the burden of proof would be on the government to establish that withheld information meets the exemptions.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, no one — with the possible exception of wife Lady Bird and trusted aides — had any information about the President's future plans, even a day ahead.

Callaway Launches Drive In Georgia Governorship

COLUMBUS, Ga. — Urging a new Declaration of Independence for states rights built on self-reliance, Rep. Howard H. (Bo) Callaway has launched his campaign to become Georgia's first Republican governor in nearly 100 years.

"The battle for states rights will not be won until we in Georgia issue a new Declaration of Independence, constructed of acts and deeds and state self-reliance," Callaway told a cheering throng estimated by police at nearly 3,000 at his Fourth of July campaign kickoff rally.

Only one Republican has served as Georgia's governor in the last century and that was shortly after the Civil War during Reconstruction.

The present governor, Democrat Carl E. Sanders, is limited by law to his four-year term which ends in January.

The battle to smash century-old Democratic domination in the state capitol will not be so new to the 39-year-old heir to a textile fortune.

Two years ago, he won election as the state's first Republican member of Congress since Reconstruction, and it was recognized at the time that his race for the U. S. House was probably a prelude to a campaign for governor.

Callaway said he would not disclose his platform for the governor's race until after Democrats decide in September among six candidates.

One of the Democrats, Albany publisher James H. Gray, formally opened his campaign in his hometown Monday, also keying his campaign to a strong states-rights pitch.

The other Democratic candidates are former Gov. Ellis Arnall, former Lt. Gov. Garland Byrd, State Sen. Jimmy Carter of Plains, Atlanta businessman Lester Maddox and businessman Hoke O'Kelley of Loganville.

Callaway defeated Byrd in his race for Congress two years ago.

Callaway was a Democrat until he switched parties in 1964 and became an ardent supporter of Sen. Barry Goldwater during the presidential campaign. He played a leading role in Goldwater's capture of the state GOP which initiated a drive that carried the state for the Arizona senator.

Callaway, a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy and a veteran of the Korean War, is the heir to a family fortune built in the textile industry which has spread to numerous other businesses. His late father, Cason Callaway, was on the board of directors of U. S. Steel Corp. and a major stockholder.

Integration Try In Lawton, Okla., Swim Pool Fails

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—An Independence Day effort to integrate the only swimming pool in this city of 61,000 persons in southern Oklahoma ended in failure.

Fifty-five of the chanting, marching demonstrators were hauled off to jail where 38 adults were charged with trespassing on complaints signed by Ben Hutchins Sr., owner of the segregated private Doe Doe recreation park, Monday.

Seventeen of the demonstrators were juveniles. They were released to the custody of their parents.

The privately owned park has been the target of integration attempts for a month.

The 38 demonstrators, mostly Negroes, posted $20 bonds and were scheduled for court appearances at 1 p.m. Friday. They included two white Roman Catholic priests who have participated in earlier integration attempts at the park—the Rev. Al Kelly and the Rev. William Hayden.

Negroes have been trying to integrate the park since last month when the Oklahoma City chapter of the NAACP sponsored a 90-mile Oklahoma City-to-Lawton protest march.

Kennedy Runs River Rapids, Flies To Canadian Vacation

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)— Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and a group of adventurous friends and relatives who ran the rapids-filled "River of No Return" in boats, air mattresses and a kayak were back in civilization today.

But they weren't back to rest. Kennedy — who shot his last 40 miles through some of the river's rapids — planned to fly out with his family today for more vacation in Canada.

The senator abandoned the rubber boats for the kayak — a long thin covered boat with a hole in the middle for the rider — just past the halfway point in the 100-mile trip down the Salmon River's middle fork.

He said he had ridden a kayak only once before, but he maneuvered over the steep, roaring falls of the rapids between sharp rocks and shot up off "rollback" waves at the bottom like a veteran.

Willie Schaeffler, Denver University ski coach, trying the same things in a kayak made unstable by a broken part, overturned in the rapids four times.

James Whittaker, a mountain climber and a close outdoor friend of the Kennedys, overturned his kayak once.

The senator earlier joined a number of the 15 Kennedy children, cousins and friends riding leisurely down the river on air mattresses.

The rest of the party — included astronaut John Glenn and his wife, singer Andy Williams' wife and Lemoyne Billings of New York — swept over the rapids in the eight yellow and black rubber boats.

Passengers often walk around the worst rapids, but every member of the Kennedy party chose to shoot them all.

The trip ended in the mile-deep canyon junction of the middle fork and main Salmon River near the Montana border and Continental Divide late Monday afternoon.

Chartered buses carried the river-runners out of the wilderness back to Sun Valley where they capped the trip with an informal party.

They had spent the previous three nights in tents in the open banks of the river — fishing, swimming and water fighting.

Driver Forfeits Bond In Mishap At Lisbon

LISBON — Paul T. Jack, 21, of Columbiana R. D. 1 forfeited a $15 appearance bond Sunday night in mayor's court following his arrest on a charge of failure to stop in an assured clear distance.

Officer Richard Koffel said the accident occurred at 7:35 p. m. on W. Lincoln Way at the Beaver St. intersection.

He said Jack was driving a 1954 sedan in a line of east-bound traffic, hit a stopped 1939 sedan operated by Michael A. Conn, 17, of 667 E. Washington St., Lisbon, and knocked it into a stopped 1961 sedan driven by Lorain Coleman, 62, of Lisbon R. D. 1.

No one was injured. Police estimated $75 damage to the Coleman and Conn vehicles. Jack's car was undamaged.

Grass Fire Quelled

LISBON — The volunteer fire department made its second grass fire run in two days at 2:55 p. m. Sunday, extinguishing a blaze on an embankment along Route 172 at the Art Tritten farm.

200 Evacuated When Bricks In Building Crumble

CINCINNATI (AP) — The bricks came tumbling down, and "It was a miracle that no one was killed," said Fire Marshal Albert Schroeder.

More than 200 persons were evacuated Monday from a wing of a recently opened apartment building when tons of brick veneer on three outside walls suddenly broke loose and crashed to the ground.

The east wing of the Essex-Apartment Building complex was condemned by City Building Director Donald Hunter.

The only casualty was Mrs. Pearl Berman, 65, who suffered an apparent heart attack and back injuries. She was opening a window in her second floor apartment when it was jerked from her hand by falling bricks. She was admitted to a hospital.

Fifteen autos were damaged or destroyed, firemen said.

Debris was piled several feet high on three sides of the wing, with most of the damage to a wall facing a parking lot where the cars were. The remaining bricks were stripped from the building.

The bricks came loose, Schroeder said, when a 40-foot steel beam supporting the rear wall above a parking area under the building gave way.

Firemen had to dig nine cars from under the debris.

Pirates Stand Still After Split

As Giants Divide With Cards

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A plastic shield covers Ron Santo's left cheek but National League pitchers could use a cover to shield them from Santo.

The All-Star third baseman returned to the Chicago line-up Monday for the first time since June 2 and rapped four hits in six at-bats as the last-place Cubs split a doubleheader with second-place Pittsburgh.

Santo collected two singles and a homer in the Cubs' 7-5 first-game loss, then came back with a run-scoring single that snapped a tie and sent the Cubs to a 6-4 victory in the second game called because of darkness after 7½ innings.

The hits extended Santo's consecutive game streak to 27, which is the longest in the majors this season and which ties the Cub record set by Hack Wilson in 1929.

The 26-year-old slugger accomplished all that in his first appearance since a pitch from New York's Jack Fisher fractured his left cheek bone June 26.

The doctor said if I could see I could play," said Santo, whose cheek was protected by a special plastic shield. "My left eye looks pretty bad, but I could see. Some of the Pirates kept asking, 'Boy, that eye looks bad. Can you see out of it?'"

"I guess I proved I could," Santo especially proved it in the seventh inning of the nightcap with two Cubs on base, the game tied 4-4 and darkness moving in on light-less Wrigley Field.

"I set myself to hit Don Cardwell's first pitch if it were any where near the plate," Santo repeated. "It was getting dark and I knew in my own mind that the umpires were going to call the game. His first pitch was a fast ball, and I let go at it. It was a great thrill."

The single increased Santo's average to .319, fifth best in the league, and gave him an average of .338 during his streak, which started June 1.

In other NL games, St. Louis defeated San Francisco 6-2 before losing 3-2. Los Angeles nipped Cincinnati 2-1. Atlanta edged Houston 3-2 and New York swept Philadelphia 9-6 and 8-1.

The Pirates won the opener despite Santo's two singles and a homer, on the three-run homer of Willie Stargell and the two-run blast of Gene Alley.

Home runs by Phil Gagliano, Lou Brock and Mike Shannon sent San Francisco's Juan Marichal to his fourth defeat against 13 victories. Curt Flood added a two-run single for the Cardinals, who defeated Marichal for the second time in six days.

The Giants came back in the nightcap, though as Gaylord Perry scattered seven hits for his 12th victory against one defeat. Shannon recorded only the second homer off Perry this season, but Perry helped his own cause by lacing two singles, scoring one run and driving in another.

Los Angeles' Don Sutton pitched a five-hitter and won his first game since June 2. The Dodgers snapped a tie and sent the Reds to their sixth straight defeat when Fairly doubled in the sixth and scored as John Roseboro singled.

Joe Torre tripped and scored on Frank Bolling's ground out in the seventh inning, breaking Atlanta's 2-2 tie with Houston. Torre also doubled across a run in the first inning in helping Ken Johnson with a four-hitter.

Ron Swoboda smashed a homer and a triple, driving in five runs in New York's first-game triumph which halted Philadelphia's six-game winning streak. Bob Shaw didn't finish but still gained his fifth victory in six decisions with the Mets.

Al Luplow propelled the Mets in the second game with a three-run homer in the second inning. Swoboda added a run-scoring single. Jack Fisher blanked the Phillies until the eighth when Bill White singled in a run.

SCORING THE FIRST run for the Giants in the second game Monday is Tito Fuentes who is shown sliding across the plate after Tom Haller had doubled to rightfield. The ball arrives too late for Tim McCarver to tag the sliding Fuentes. (UPI Telephoto)

A's End Orioles Win Streak At 7 In Row

Catfish Hunter beat the heat in the seventh inning but Fritz Peterson didn't cool off until the eighth.

Kansas City's Hunter, working with only two days rest in a 5-2 victory over Chicago Monday, pitched six strong innings as the Athletics snapped the American League-leading Orioles' winning streak at seven with a 9-6 victory.

New York's Peterson, meanwhile, rivaled the 95-degree temperature at Yankee Stadium by pitching 7 1/3 perfect innings in a 5-2 victory over Chicago that gained the Yanks a split of their holiday doubleheader.

Hunter, 20 years old and Kansas City's biggest winner with eight victories, yielded four hits and three runs — two of them unearned — before going out for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

When Dick Green's three-run homer gave the A's their winning margin.

Manager Alvin Dark said he hadn't planned on Hunter going all the way because of the heat and the young right-hander's lack of rest. Hunter beat Detroit 6-4 in his previous start last Friday.

Peterson, a 24-year-old rookie, retired the first 22 batters he faced before his own error ended the string and John Romano's single broke up the no-hit bid. He finished with a two-hitter and his seventh victory in 13 decisions.

The young left-hander, a fast worker who has said, "I like to get a game over with so I can find out who won," dispatched the White Sox on 87 pitches. Only 20 were called balls.

The White Sox took the first game 5-0 behind the six-hit pitching of left-hander Gary Peters.

Elsewhere, the California Angels whipped Detroit 11-6. Minnesota edged Cleveland 5-4 and Washington divided a twin bill with Boston, winning the first game 6-4 and losing the nightcap 1-0.

The Athletics, who have won four of their last five, jumped to a 9-3 lead over the Orioles. Green leading the way with five RBI. He batted twice during a six-run rally in the fifth, driving in the first run with a single and delivering another when he was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded.

Russ Rynder homered for the Orioles, who closed the gap with three runs in the ninth.

Petersen threw wildly after fielding Jerry Adair's roller with one out in the eighth and Romano followed with his ground single. Ken Berry then doubled in one run and Lee Elia sent across the other with a sacrifice fly.

Petersen's third inning single triggered a three-run rally. Lou Clinton singling across a pair, and Jake Gibbs knocked in two more with a single in the fifth as the Yankees rolled up a 5-0 lead in the second game.

Don Buford unloaded a two-run inside-the-park homer and J. C. Martin rapped two run-scoring singles, leading Chicago's first-game attack.

The Angels struck for five runs in the eighth inning. Jose Cardenal and Jim Fregosi capping the rally with homers, and handed the Tigers their third setback in a row. Cardenal hit a three-run homer. Fregosi a two-run shot. Joe Adcock and Jack Warner also homered for California.

Bob Allison pinch hit a two-run homer in the eighth inning, snapping a 3-3 tie, and Dwight Siebler rescued winner Jim Kaat in the ninth as the Twins ended a seven-game losing streak. Harmon Killebrew hit a two-run homer for Minnesota and Fred Whitfield clubbed a three-run homer for the Indians.

The Red Sox nipped Washington in the nightcap as Lee Stange scattered three hits and George Scott stroked a run-scoring single in the first inning. The Senators scored all their runs in the second inning of the opener. Ken McMullen's homer triggering the outburst.

Something Has To Give In Koufax Vs. Maloney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Cincinnati's Jim Maloney and Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax go against each other tonight and something's got to give.

The Reds hope it'll be their losing streak which reached six games Monday when the Dodgers edged them 2-1 behind the five-hit pitching of rookie Don Sutton.

Maloney, 33, and Koufax, 34, have not taken defeats back-to-back this season. They have duelled twice in the last two seasons, each winning one.

Catcher John Roseboro's tie-breaking single in the sixth inning paved the way for Sutton to win his first game since June 2. The right-hander is now 8-7 as he snapped a personal three-game losing streak.

The loss went to Jim O'Toole, who pitched well enough but didn't get the hitting support he needed. The Reds only run came in the fifth inning on singles by Tommy Helms, Deron Johnson and John Edwards.

O'Toole gave up nine hits and is now 1-3.

Bold Lad, At 135, Upset By Buffle In 1¼ Suburban

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie Nely, well on his way to a record-smashing $2-million year, lost out on the big one Monday as Bold Lad finished a badly beaten sixth back of the lightly weighed Buffle in the $110,900 Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct.

But the 45-year-old trainer of the Phipps family's thoroughbreds was not shut out in his divide and conquer program.

With Ogden Phipps' Great White Way winning the Dover Stakes for 2-year-olds by five lengths at Delaware Park, Nely chalked up his 24th stakes program of the year.

The victory by the son of Court Martial-Broadway in the 5½-furlong race gave the popular Nely an enviable record of two stakes triumphs in three attempts during the holiday weekend. He won the Molly Pitcher at Monmouth Park Saturday with Discipline.

But nothing could entirely cover up the disappointment over the failure of the 4-year-old Bold Lad from Mrs. H.C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable to chalk up his fifth victory in as many races this year.

The son of Bold Ruler, carrying a crushing burden of 135 pounds to 110 by the 3-year-old Buffle from Robert Kleburg's King Ranch, broke in front of the pack of nine class handicap performers. Jockey Braulio Baeza eased him back but he had nothing left to challenge when Buffle showed the way into the final one-quarter mile.

Buffle, who had been unable to make the grade in the spring classics for horses of his own age, made the most of his weight. With Canadian Ron Turcotte in the saddle, the son of home-bred Son of Zenith took the lead at the pole and completed the 1 miles in 2:02.

Travel Orb upset the favored Native Diver in the $56,750 American Handicap at Hollywood Park.

The 4-year-old colt, a surprise winner in the recent Californian, paid $9.60, $3.80 and $3 for this three-quarters of a length victory over the favored Diver. He covered the 1½ miles in 1:47 4/5.

Climax II finished strongly and won the $57,900 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park.

The Italian-bred scored by less than a length over two field horses, The Dancer and Miss Rincon, in the 1½-mile race.

Slovak Eases To Victory In Gold Cup

DETROIT (AP) — Soft-spoken Mira Slovak figured he let the crown down Monday while winning the Gold Cup, the world series of powerboat racing.

Slovak, who set a sizzling pace as he won his first three heats in the tragedy-marked weekend, played it safe and drove at a snail's pace in the final event, piling up just enough points to win the cup.

"I knew the fans wanted to see a red-hot finish, but I felt I owed more to my racing team and to the boat owners," said the driver of the victorious Tahoe Miss.

"The cup meant more to me than five fast laps around the Detroit River course," the 37-year-old Czechoslovakian refugee said. "We had a lot at stake in the final race and it would have made no sense to have gone out there and perhaps burned up the engine."

Slovak went into the final heat with 1,200 points as the result of three heat triumphs on Sunday and Monday. Dixie Cola, driven by Fred Alter of Detroit, was next with 900 which pretty well left Slovak in the driver's seat.

The Los Angeles driver, who had shown his propeller wash to the field in his first three races, took the lead at the start of the final heat. He was then content to sit back and let the others battle it out while he settled for fifth place and 127 points which assured him the title with 1,327 points. Runner-up Dixie Cola had 1,200.

Slovak and ill-fated Chuck Thompson, veteran Detroit boat driver, appeared to be headed into a two-man showdown for the Gold Cup title on Sunday when Thompson's unlimited hydroplane flew apart during a heat as he and Slovak battled it out.

Veteran Robin Roberts Placed On Waiver List

HOUSTON (AP) — Robin Roberts has pitched more than 4,600 major league innings and his dream of winning 300 games was almost a reality when the Houston Astros placed him on waivers Monday.

"I don't want to say anything I might wish I hadn't the next day," was Roberts' only comment.

The 39-year-old right-hander, who had won more games than any other active pitcher — was just 16 triumphs shy of his win goal.

He learned the news shortly before Monday's game with the Atlanta Braves, which the Astros lost 3-2.

The 1966 season had been unkind to Roberts. He won three games but lost five. He completed just one of his 12 starts and showed well in only one of his last four tries.

It was a different story last year. He signed with Houston as a free agent in August, after requesting his release from the Baltimore Orioles, and won his first four games for the Astros — including successive shutouts in his first two appearances.

Roberts, who will be replaced by young Don Arlich of the Astro's Oklahoma City club, underwent surgery after the 1965 season to remove loose bone fragments from his right elbow.

Roberts, who has a lifetime major league record of 284 victories and 242 losses, originally was signed in 1948 by the Phillies. From 1950 to 1955, he posted 20 or more victories for six straight seasons and pitched in five All-Star games.

Post 374 Splits Weekend Games

East Liverpool Post 374 split a pair of games over the weekend by tripping Midland 10-4 Monday at Crucible Field after dropping a 7-3 decision Sunday to Salem.

Post 374 broke a 4-4 tie Monday at Midland by scoring six runs in the top of the seventh after receiving some outstanding relief pitching from right-hander Len Walker.

Post 374 scored six runs on only two hits as Midland pitchers gave up five walks in that inning.

Walker relieved Jack Myler in the fourth inning with two out and the bases loaded. The right-hander struck out the next batter then went on to pitch three innings of hitless ball.

In Sunday's game, Bill Wright was the losing pitcher while Jerry Vaughn blasted a home run in a losing cause for the East Liverpool nine. Post 374 only collected four hits while Wright gave up six.

Ex-Carpenter Joins Ranks Of Champion Race Drivers

By F. T. MACFEELY
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The exclusive fraternity of former carpenters who laid down their awl and became champion race drivers has a new member — curly haired Sam McQuagg of Columbus, Ga.

When he won the Firecracker 400 at the record speed of 153.813 miles an hour Monday, McQuagg joined the club which up to now had a single notable member in Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., who is out of stock car racing this season as part of the Ford factory boycott.

McQuagg's victory may have saved his job, too, with the Plymouth-Dodge factory racing team.

Rookie of the Year on the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing circuit in 1965, McQuagg was hired as one of seven top drivers on the team this year.

Chrysler Corp. officials didn't say so publicly, but rumor had it they were disappointed with his results and were not planning on a 1967 renewal. He finished fifth in the Daytona 500, fifth in the Bristol 250 and seventh in the Atlanta 500. The last four races his car failed to finish.

But he's in the winner's circle for the first time and the kind of race he drove on the hot 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway left no room for criticism.

The $15,500 prize money looked good, too, to a man who had been carpenter and mechanic for a living while he raced the dirt tracks of Georgia to learn his chosen craft of race driver.

McQuagg jumped into the lead on the first lap — moving up from fourth starting spot in his 1966 Dodge Charger — and led 132 of the 160 laps.

He lost first place when he pitted four separate times — well spaced to take advantage of caution flags on three occasions — and had the lead wrested away briefly by Lee Roy Yarborough of Columbia, S.C., who started on the pole in a companion Dodge Charger.

After Yarborough blew a tire, which wrecked a spring and put him out with 83 miles to go, McQuagg was in command. He finished 28 seconds in front of Darel Dieringer, of Charlotte, N.C., who drove a Mercury Comet. Dieringer collected $8,970 for second place, including $1,500 for the best finisher outside the factory sponsored cars.

Jim Paschal of High Point, N.C., was third in a 1966 Plymouth and won $6,055.

Toledo Ends Win Streak Of Columbus

By The Associated Press
Toledo's Mud Hens ended league leading Columbus' four-game winning streak in the International League by splitting an Independence Day doubleheader with the Jets.

Toledo notched seven runs in the sixth inning of the second game en route to a 12-8 decision. The Jets had won the opener 4-0 as lefty Wilbur Wood twirled a three-hitter for his seventh win and third shutout.

The doubleheader split Monday was one of three in the 11, as Richmond pasted Jacksonville 12-2 in the opener and dropped the second game to the Suns 4-1.

Toronto eked out a 6-5 victory over Rochester in the first game of their double bill with the Red Wings coming back with a 3-2 triumph.

Elsewhere, Buffalo dropped Syracuse twice, 6-0 and 3-2.

Honorable Captures Scioto Downs Feature

The 9-5 pre-race favorite paid $5.80, $3.60 and $3.20. Henry Blackstone paid $4.60 and $3.80 to place and Abbe's Art paid $7.20 to show.

Mele Makes Right Choice With Allison

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam Mele looked down the bench. He needed a right handed hitter against Cleveland Indians lefty John O'Donoghue.

It was 3-3 and O'Donoghue had allowed only one hit in three innings of relief. Now it was the eighth and Harmon Killebrew was on first with a walk.

The Minnesota Twins manager had Andy Kosco (.250) and Bob Allison (.180) available. He deliberated a few more seconds, then told Allison to grab a bat.

Allison golfed a low, outside pitch over the left-centerfield fence for a two-run homer. It gave Minnesota a 5-4 victory Monday and snapped the Twins' seven-game losing streak.

"Allison has home run beside his name," Mele said. "He can get one up the alley with enough power to score a guy from first. And he has the power to get the ball over the fence."

That's exactly what Allison did, and O'Donoghue was still trying to figure it out after the game.

"It was about three inches outside and low," he said. "I don't know how he was able to golf it out of there. It just doesn't make sense."

Tribe Manager Birdie Tebbetts said he planned to "run a relay" of pitchers after starter Steve Hargan showed up with a sore throat and a fever.

"We almost got away with it, too," Tebbetts said. "We could have won if we could get some of these guys swinging at the ball."

Tebbetts didn't name names, but Vic Davalillo was called out on strikes as a ninth inning pinch hitter with one run home and two men on base.

Pinch hitter Chuck Hinton had singled home Max Alvis, but reliever Dwight Siebler got the last two men out to save the win for Jim Kaat (10-6).

The Twins opened with three runs in the first on Killebrew's 15th homer off Gary Bell and Tony Oliva's triple, scoring Zoilo Versalles.

The Tribe came back in the fourth on Fred Whitfield's three-run homer, his first hit in 15 times at bat.

Golfers Wait British Open

MURFIELD, Scotland (AP) — A field of 130 golfers went through their final day of practice today preparing for the British Open Golf Championship.

The 72-hole test over Muirfield's 6,887-yard, par 71 course gets under way Wednesday and the top professionals and amateurs are trying to get the feel of the fairways.

Among those who toured the course Monday were Doug Sanders, Julius Boros, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player.

Sanders was somewhat surprised at the wild rough which crowds the fairways here.

"Just let me have the lost ball and hay concession and I'll be the leading money winner," he cracked.

Boros, nursing an injured elbow, hesitated to challenge the roughs.

"I got into the rough but hit another ball each time rather than play out of it," Boros explained. "I don't want to aggravate the injury."

Nicklaus and Player spent Monday in 18 holes of match play against two teen-agers, British Amateur champ Bobby Cole of South Africa and Pete Townsend of Britain.

The pros won, 2-and-1, but both were impressed by the youngsters.

"Those kids are just great," enthused Player. "That boy Cole has real method," said Nicklaus. "And Townsend hits the ball very far for a skinny kid."

Arlin Loses First Start, But Not Bad

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Steve Arlin — The Philadelphia Phillies' bonus pitcher who signed for a reported $100,000 — was impressive but a loser in his professional debut.

Arlin's California League Bakersfield Bears lost to the Los Angeles Crusaders 4-0.

But it wasn't as bad as it sounds for the big, bespectacled right hander who pitched Ohio State to the NCAA championship this year.

Arlin gave up eight hits, seven of them singles, he walked three men, one intentionally. Three of the four runs scored by his opponents were unearned. He threw 131 pitches in all, 86 of them strikes. He struck out 13.

The game was Arlin's first start in 15 days. His last start was for Ohio State in the College World Series in Omaha, Neb.

Arlin won 11 games for Ohio State this season, losing only one. Last year he was 13-2.

Although leaving college before graduation, he plans to continue his studies in the off season and hopes to become a dentist.

In Saturday's game Arlin displayed a first-rate fast ball and a sharp-breaking curve. He drew a season's record crowd of 1,191.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: If you have a bird bath, you know how soiled and slimy the bottom can get. If you are tired of scrubbing it week after week, maybe this little tip will help you:

After scrubbing the bird bath (for the last time) line it with plastic wrap off that roll in your kitchen!

When you are ready to change the water next time, simply pour it out, replace the plastic and have a cleaner, more beautiful bird bath.

BIRD LOVER.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have stuck or burned food in a pan, just dump the coffee grounds from your still warm percolator into the pan. Let it stand for a while, then stir the grounds around in the pan.

Besides loosening the stuck or burned on food, the coffee grounds also absorb the grease in the pan.

MRS. V.M.P.

The grounds don't even have to be warm to be effective.

I have used wadded-up pieces of newspaper to rub the grounds around in the pan. The grounds are abrasive and do a good cleaning job... and the newspaper can be used to pick up the mess to put it in the garbage can.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When you first get a little puppy, he usually whines and cries for several nights. If you put a clock in with the puppy, the puppy will like the ticking sound and there will be no more sleepless nights for him—or you.

It works like a charm.

MRS. F. O. PARKER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a very good way to have privacy when sleeping or camping out in a station wagon: On the inside of the windows, use the type of aerosol window cleaner spray that leaves a white film when dry.

When you get up and have dressed in the morning, just wipe off the windows, and you will have all clean, clear windows.

ROYAL SCHLEMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: To encourage toast eating in the morning, I cut the pieces of toast into odd-slices piece, then mix them up.

I call this "puzzle toast."

Sometimes I sprinkle "sparkle sugar" on the toast.

MRS. R. S.

DEAR HELOISE: To remove ugly black heel marks from my tile or wood floors, I use toothpaste on a soft cloth or sponge.

It works like magic and has never marred the wax.

ARLENE R.

That hint is one of the greatest. Thanks for sending it in, Arlene.

Also, lighter fluid (read cautions) or a little kerosene on a soft cloth will do the same thing.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you enjoy "doing up" those tablecloths after every picnic?

Neither do I!

I went to the local dime store and purchased 6 1/2 feet of 42-inch wide oil cloth, and I have the prettiest, easy to do up picnic cloth you ever saw!

Now I just wipe it clean with a wet rag, dry with a towel, fold, and put away.

AN AVID HELOISE FAN.

DEAR HELOISE: We have a baby crib that is almost 29 years old.

This crib has been passed down to all of the babies in our family, and it is not fit for another baby's use—yet it still has good, solid sides.

We came upon the idea of cutting the legs off and putting new boards in the bottom of the crib.

We painted the crib a pretty color and now use it in the basement to hold the toys our three kids have collected.

MRS. BURTON L. WAITE.

Plane Crash Claims Four

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — A big Navy transport plane, off course and out of control, crashed nearly straight into the earth here Monday, killing all four men aboard.

The plane, a military version of the Lockheed Electra, was on a routine training flight from Floyd Bennett Field, N.Y., to Moffett Field, Calif., with a stop planned in Chicago.

The ship was headed in a southeasterly direction when it swooped low over farmland five miles northeast of this Lower Michigan city and smashed to bits.

State police said the wreckage was strewn over a four-mile area and included "nothing larger than a football."

Authorities at Moffett Field identified the dead as Lt. William E. Xiques, Staten Island, N.Y.; Lt. John Patrick Fitzmaurice, III, Waterbury, Conn.; Aviation Machinists Mate 2.C. Charles J. Lurvey, Meriden, Conn.; and Aviation Machinists Mate 3.C. Larry W. Battison, Santa Clara, Calif.

George Hack, a licensed commercial pilot and former Navy flight engineer who owns an airport near the crash scene, said, "I heard him go over at about 2,000 feet. I heard a high-pitched scream of propellers." Hack said it sounded as if the ship were going at very high speed.

He took off in his own light plane and flew to the crash site. "I saw a 15-foot deep trench about 75 feet long," he said.

Hack said it appeared to him that the ship went nearly straight in, on its side, with the wings pointing up and down. The airplane hit on the edge of a wood and started several small fires.

Four Navy officers from the Grosbeak, Mich., Naval Air Station flew here to investigate.

Young Kennedy's Burns Mending. Enjoys Vacation

HONOLULU (AP) — Young John F. Kennedy Jr., is beginning to enjoy his Hawaii vacation again now that his burns are on the mend.

Dr. Eldon Sykes, a Honolulu plastic surgeon called in to examine the 5-year-old boy's injuries after he stumbled into a camp fire on a Hawaii beach last Thursday, said Tuesday the burned areas would heal completely without leaving scars.

Sykes performed what he called "minor surgery" on the son of the late president. This consisted primarily of breaking blisters, described by Sykes as "routine procedure of a minor nature."

The operation was performed at the home of millionaire industrialist Henry Kaiser, where Mrs. Kennedy, son John and daughter Caroline, 9, moved on their return from a week-long trip to Hawaii Island.

It was during their final day on that island, 200 miles southeast of Honolulu, that the accident occurred. The family had had a cookout at a private beach, and John was tugging on a sleeping bag when he fell backwards. He landed in the hot coals and was burned on the buttocks and right hand.

Mrs. Kennedy said the incident won't interfere with her vacation and she plans to extend her Hawaii visit indefinitely.

Ohioan Breaks Record In Archery Tourney

POINT PLEASANT W. Va. (AP) — Bill Bednar of Suffield, Portage County, Ohio, broke the record — held by another Ohioan — Monday in successfully defending his title in the Professional Archery Association National Championships.

Bednar scored 1,176 points out of a possible 1,200, breaking the mark held by Bill Partin of Lexington, Ohio.

Hollywood Park Leads In Race Track Betting

By The Associated Press

A $4.5-million handle at Hollywood Park led the betting action Monday as Fourth of July horse-players jammed the nation's thoroughbred race tracks.

A total of 320,096 persons attended 18 major tracks and bet total of $24,214,152. Last year, a poll of 23 tracks counted 439,243 fans who bet $30,482,553.

At Hollywood, the day's largest crowd, 56,752, bet $4,537,543. At New York's Aqueduct, 44,425 persons bet $3,957,965.

The Hollywood total fell short of last year's July 4 handle, which went above $5 million for the first time. Last year's betting at the Big A also was more than $5 million.

QUESTION: Does it hurt a horse when horseshoes are put on?

ANSWER: One of the valuable materials nature provides is the tough horn composed of keratin. It is a kind of insulating material which, in horses' hooves, gives protection to the animal and provides him with strong footing. Think how much slower a horse would run if he could feel ground surfaces through his hooves!

The same kind of horny keratin gives protection to the ends of our fingers. Our fingernails keep growing out and would become very uncomfortable unless we clipped the ends or filed them. It does not hurt to clip or file our nails. A horse's hoof would be very uncomfortable to him if allowed to grow out without trimming. When his hooves are trimmed by a skilled horseshoer it does not hurt him. To give horses even better footing, metal shoes are nailed on, but since the nails go through the horn parts of the foot, the nailing does not hurt the horse.

FOR YOU TO DO: Run cold water from the tap over the outside of one of your fingernails. Because of the protection of the nail, it won't feel very cold. But turn your finger around so the fleshy part is under the cold water and then you'll really feel it.

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, July 5, the 186th day of 1966. There are 179 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1935, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Wagner - Connery bill into what was to become known as the National Labor Relations Act. It was considered one of the most far-reaching attempts ever made to adjust standards of industrial employment conditions.

On this date

In 1810, American showman, P.T. Barnum, was born.

In 1830, the French occupied the city of Algiers.

In 1865, the Salvation Army was founded.

In 1940, diplomatic relations were broken between Vichy France and Great Britain.

In 1944, American paratroops invaded Nijmegen Island in Dutch New Guinea.

Ten years ago-Reports from the Middle East for the second straight day caused concern that the area might be turned into a warground. The reports said that both Arabs and Israelis were massing troops along their borders.

Five years ago-The Soviet Union formally rejected Western proposals on the control organization for a nuclear test-ban treaty.

One year ago-Colonel Houari Boumedienne was formally installed as president of Algeria's 26-man Revolutionary Council. He had led the coup that ousted President Ahmed Ben Bella 16 days before.

West Virginia Traffic Takes Lives Of Ten

Independence Day weekend mishaps claimed 12 lives in West Virginia — 10 in traffic and two in drowning accidents—to break State Police carnage predictions for the deadly holiday.

The traffic toll boosted the state's record for the year to 227, compared with 214 on this date last year.

The worst mishap, a head-on collision on the outskirts of Parkersburg, killed three persons.

Two children of Mr. and Mrs. John Stagg of Parkersburg — Stephen, 16 and Suzanna, 3 months — died in the wreck Saturday night. Also killed was the driver of the other car, Norman D. Webb, 20, also of Parkersburg. The children's father was driving and their mother was seriously hurt.

Violet R. Waslo, 42, of Greenbank was killed Monday when her car ran off U.S. 219 four miles south of Marlinton and hit a tree. Four of Mrs. Waslo's children were injured.

A search continued in the Northern Panhandle and in Ohio and Pennsylvania for the driver of a car that ran down a Weirton mother pushing a baby carriage Saturday night, killing the woman's 19-month-old girl.

Police said the mother, Mrs. Rose Elder, 36, was pushing the carriage along the roadside. She was hospitalized in fair condition.

A single car wreck near Hines claimed two lives early Saturday. Raymond T. Rhodes, 23, of Meadow Bridge, Fayette County, died Sunday in a Ronceverte hospital after his car went off U.S. 60. Killed outright in the crash was Benson Highlander, 61, of Anjean, who was Rhodes' passenger.

Donald R. Weikle, 29, of North Carolina, died Sunday from injuries suffered Saturday in a motorcycle wreck near his former home at Sarton, Monroe County. He died in Bluefield Sanitarium.

In a Friday night mishap, Emanuel D. Pennington, 27, of Littlestown, Pa., was killed when his motorcycle collided with a car on U.S. 33 near Franklin.

In the two Sunday drownings, John Talley, 11, of Princeton drowned at Lake Shawnee while swimming with his family. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Talley. And the 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Cunningham of Wheeling Creek during a family outing.

Virginian's Elected As Head Of Kiwanis

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Marshall E. Jetty of St. Mary's, Pa., has been defeated in the election of a president-elect at the Kiwanis International Convention.

The office, the only one contested in Monday's elections, went to James M. Moller of Charles Town, W. Va.

Dr. Glenn Reed Jr. of Marietta, Ga., was named president for 1966-67, succeeding Edward C. Keeffe of Oklahoma City. Okla. Reed was president-elect in 1965-66.

One Killed When Rig Flips On Top Of Car

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A semi-trailer flipped over on top of a car at an intersection north of here early today and at least one person was killed and others were possibly injured, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the victim was the truck driver whose body was pinned in the wreckage at Ohio 25 and Little York Road.

Racial Strife Tapering Off

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — National Guardsmen were called into Omaha's predominantly Negro area near North Side on the last night of the holiday weekend. They made some arrests, but in contrast to the two previous nights, no violence was reported.

Looting, vandalism and major disturbances had marked Saturday and Sunday nights in the area of 24th and Lake streets. Monday night's arrests occurred as the guardsmen cleared the area at the request of city officials.

Earlier, members of four National Guard units had whiled away the night in their armories, prepared to move in to back up Omaha police. The police were working 12-hour shifts and riding four to a cruiser, in case there should be any recurrence of earlier violence.

Members of two additional Guard units on the outskirts of Omaha also were on alert, ready to move in if serious trouble developed.

Among those manning the emergency command post at a fire station at 22nd and Lake streets — only two blocks from the scene of a major outbreak in the early morning hours Sunday and the later call for the Guard this morning — were Mayor A. V. Sorensen and Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen, brother of former presidential aide Ted Sorensen, acting governor in the absence of Gov. Frank Morrison who is attending the National Governor's Conference in Los Angeles, Calif.

Most of the city's Negro population, estimated at about 30,000, live in the area.

The latest incident reportedly involved an estimated 250 to 300 persons, mostly Negro, and was connected with the shoving of an Omaha policeman. Officers at the scene called for help from the 36 Nebraska safety patrolmen who were standing by.

It was decided to call for the Guard to "sweep the area" and disperse persons who had no reason to be there.

Governor Morrison, who has been keeping in touch with the situation through aides, commented:

"First of all, this is not a typical racial disturbance. It isn't a conflict of Negro against white or white against Negro. It's a question of a group of young Negroes taking the law into their own hands and going on a spree of destruction."

When a reporter asked Mayor Sorensen earlier Monday if the situation was primarily a problem of racial relations, the mayor said flatly it was not.

Negro leaders issued appeals to the Negro population to end the disturbance and looting of stores.

Lightning Kills Three While On Ohio Picnic

MASURY, Ohio (AP) — Three persons were killed by lightning Monday while on a picnic in Ohio, just west of Sharon, Pa. The victims, Samuel Tallo, 50, of Masury; John P. Groff, 55, of Youngstown and Groff's son, John 5, were part of a group attending a picnic at the home of Harry Cedaker when a thunderstorm came up.

Lightning apparently hit a tree glanced off and struck the

Truman Thinks U.S. Will Be Okay In Viet

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Harry S. Truman says he thinks the nation will come through its trials in Southeast Asia all right.

The former president made a short Fourth of July speech in front of the Truman Library Monday for the eighth year in a row.

"There are always liabilities you have to meet," he told the crowd of about 100. "Today people are fighting and dying in Southeast Asia. The mettle of a people, the mettle of a nation are on trial before the world."

don't think we need to worry about the result. I think we'll come out fine."
